Table of Contents

Table of Cases ................................................................................................................................. ix
Biography ................................................................................................................................................ xi
Acknowledgments ............................................................................................................................ xiii
Introduction — Environmental Justice: Legal Theory and Practice .................................................. 1
  Environmental Justice, Sustainable Development, and the Human Right to a Clean and Healthy Environment .................................................................................................................. 1
  Interrelationship Between Environmental Justice and Sustainable Development .................. 2
  Environmental Justice Movement .................................................................................................... 6
Chapter 1 — Defining the Problem .................................................................................................. 13
  1.1 Overview: Who Bears the Burden? ......................................................................................... 13
  1.2 Social, Health, Environmental, and Economic “Facts” ....................................................... 15
    1.2.1 Siting Decisions ........................................................................................................... 15
    1.2.2 Equal Enforcement of Environmental Laws ............................................................... 41
    1.2.3 Health Impacts ........................................................................................................... 48
    1.2.4 Toxic Torts ............................................................................................................... 68
  1.3 Zoning and Land Use Laws ................................................................................................... 80
    1.3.1 The Relationship of Zoning and Land Use Decisions to Environmental Injustice ........ 81
Chapter 2 — Growth of the Environmental Justice Movement: Organizing the Grassroots ......... 99
  2.1 Overview ............................................................................................................................... 99
  2.2 The Grassroots Environmental Justice Movement ................................................................. 99
    2.2.1 Grassroots Activism .................................................................................................. 100
  2.3 Organizing the Grassroots ..................................................................................................... 115
    2.3.1 First National People of Color Environmental Leadership Summit .......................... 115
  2.4 Tactics ................................................................................................................................... 116
    2.4.1 Louisiana—A Hotbed of Community Activism ............................................................ 117
    2.4.2 Negotiation ............................................................................................................... 133
    2.4.3 Collaborative Problem-Solving ................................................................................... 138
Chapter 3 — Addressing the Problem: The Legislative Branches ................................................ 157
  3.1 Overview ................................................................................................................................ 157
  3.2 Federal Legislation ................................................................................................................ 158
    3.2.1 In the Absence of Specific Environmental Justice Legislation ................................... 158
  3.3 State Legislation ................................................................................................................... 186
3.3.1 A Potpourri of Legislative Initiatives................................................................. 186

Chapter 4 — Addressing the Problem: The Executive Branches.................................217

4.1 Overview...............................................................................................................217

4.2 Federal Government..............................................................................................217

4.2.1 Early EPA Experience.......................................................................................217

4.2.2 Presidential Action: The Environmental Justice Executive Order...............220

4.2.3 U.S. EPA’s “Toolkit for Assessing Potential Allegations of Environmental Injustice”..................................................................................................................236

4.2.4 The Office of Enforcement and Compliance Assurance’s “Environmental Justice Smart Enforcement Assessment Tool”.......................................................242

4.2.5 U.S. EPA’s “Environmental Justice Geographic Assessment Tool” .................244

4.2.6 U.S. EPA Administrator Johnson’s Memorandum, “Reaffirming the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency’s Commitment to Environmental Justice,” and the Chief Financial Officer's Supplemental Guidance.............................245

4.2.7 U.S. EPA Administrator Jackson’s Memorandum, “Our Top Priorities,” and the FY 2011-2015 Strategic Plan Regarding Environmental Justice and Children's Health..........................................................................................................249

4.2.8 U.S. EPA Administrator McCarthy’s Memorandum, “EPA’s Themes—Meeting the Challenge Ahead” .........................................................................................263

4.2.9 U.S. EPA’s EAB Decisions ...............................................................................268

4.3 States....................................................................................................................276

4.3.1 New Mexico’s Environmental Justice Executive Order.......................................276

4.3.2 New Jersey’s Environmental Justice Executive Orders.......................................278

4.3.3 Maryland’s Environmental Justice Executive Order ...........................................281

4.3.4 Michigan’s Environmental Justice Executive Directive.......................................283

4.3.5 Oregon’s Environmental Justice Executive Order...............................................285

4.4 Sustainable Development....................................................................................286

4.4.1 ABA Resolution on Sustainable Development and Report to the House of Delegates.........................................................................................................................287

4.4.2 U.S. EPA Office of Sustainable Communities......................................................294

4.4.3 Bethel New Life, Inc. ..........................................................................................297

4.4.4 Wilson Study, “How Planning and Zoning Contribute to Inequitable Development, Neighborhood Health, and Environmental Injustice” ........................................303

4.4.5 Ransom Article, “Pursuing Health Equity: Zoning Codes and Public Health” .................................................................................................................................304

Chapter 5 — Addressing the Problem: The Judicial Branches....................................309

5.1 Overview..............................................................................................................309

5.2 The Anti-Discriminatory Law Approach..............................................................312

5.2.1 Formulation of the Equal Protection Doctrine—Proving Intent ......................312
Table of Contents

5.2.2 Utilizing the Equal Protection Doctrine in Environmental Justice Litigation .................................................................................................................. 327

5.3 The Title VI Approach .................................................................................................................. 367
  5.3.1 Siting of Highways .................................................................................................................. 368
  5.3.2 Urban Renewal ....................................................................................................................... 374
  5.3.3 Challenges to State Agency Decisionmaking ........................................................................... 385
  5.3.4 DOT’s Federal Transit Administration Withholds Stimulus Funds Under §602 ......................... 428
  5.3.5 Implied Private Right-of-Action Under §602 ........................................................................ 436
  5.3.6 Implied Private Right-of-Action Under §1983 ..................................................................... 463
  5.3.7 Intentional Discrimination Under §601 ................................................................................. 467

5.4 The Environmental Law, With a Twist Approach ........................................................................ 472
  5.4.1 Siting ........................................................................................................................................ 473
  5.4.2 Scope of Inquiry and Standard of Review .............................................................................. 500

Chapter 6 — Addressing the Problem: The Private Bar and Corporate America......................... 535
  6.1 Overview .................................................................................................................................... 535
  6.2 Private Bar ................................................................................................................................ 535
    6.2.1 American Bar Association .................................................................................................. 535
    6.2.2 State Bar Associations ......................................................................................................... 555
  6.3 Corporate America ...................................................................................................................... 570
    6.3.1 Mixed Signals ....................................................................................................................... 570
    6.3.2 Collaborative Problem-Solving: The Experiences of Two Companies ......................... 586
    6.3.3 Lexmark International’s Environmental and Social Justice Policy .................................. 605

Chapter 7 — Human Right to a Clean and Healthy Environment .................................................. 607
  7.1 Overview ................................................................................................................................... 607
  7.2 Rights-Based Approach to Enforce the Human Right to a Clean and Healthy Environment ........ 608
    7.2.1 Rights-Based Approach at the International Level and in the United States ..................... 608

Index .................................................................................................................................................. 653