Legal Responses to Transnational and International Crimes
Towards an Integrative Approach

Edited by
Harmen van der Wilt
University of Amsterdam, the Netherlands

Christophe Paulussen
T.M.C. Asser Instituut, the Netherlands
Contents

List of Contributors vii
Preface by Christophe Paulussen ix

PART I CONCEPTUAL FRAMEWORK

1 Legal responses to transnational and international crimes: towards an integrative approach?
   Harmen van der Wilt 3
2 Responding to transnational crime: the distinguishing features of transnational criminal law
   Neil Boister 27
3 Is international criminal law an appropriate mechanism to deal with organised crime in a global society?
   Héctor Olásolo 50

PART II SPECIFIC CRIMES

4 Piracy at the intersection between international and national: regional enforcement of a transnational crime
   Marta Bo 71
5 Terrorism as a new generation transnational crime: prosecuting terrorism at the International Criminal Court
   Inez Braber 92
6 Terrorism and the conceptual divide between international and transnational criminal law
   Alejandro Chehtman 107
7 Cybercrime and its sovereign spaces: an international law perspective
   Ilias Bantekas 128
8 Domestic and international legal approaches to the repression of politically motivated cyber-attacks
   Nicolò Bussolati 146
9 Transnational prosecution of grand corruption and its discontent
   Giulio Nessi

10 Prosecuting money laundering at the ICC: can it stop the funding of international criminal organisations?
   Dirk van Leeuwen

PART III FAIR TRIAL ISSUES

11 Safeguarding defendants’ rights in transnational and international cooperation
   Maria Laura Ferioli

12 Ne bis in idem in an international and transnational criminal justice perspective – paving the way for an individual right?
   Sabine Gless

PART IV REGIONAL CASE STUDIES

13 Privatisation and increasing complexity of mass violence in Mexico and Central America: exploring appropriate international responses
   Sander Wirken and Hanna Bosdriesz

14 The distinction between ‘international’ and ‘transnational’ crimes in the African Criminal Court
   Charles Chernor Jalloh

Index