

A 1999

12.162

The Liberalisation of Public Procurement and its Effects on the Common Market

CHRISTOPHER BOVIS

Professor of European Business Law

University of Central Lancashire

Visiting Professor of Trade and Commerce

The Queen's University of Belfast

Ashgate

DARTMOUTH

Aldershot • Brookfield USA • Singapore • Sydney

Contents

Table of Cases	ix
Acknowledgements	xiii
Chapter 1
Introduction	1
The European Integration Process as the forum for the regulation of Public Procurement	1
Some fundamental conceptual elements in the regulation of public markets	5
The case of public procurement in the European Community	11
Chapter 2
The Intellectual and the Policy Approaches to the Regulation of Public Procurement	23
The new approach towards the integration of public markets	26
The regulatory background of public procurement	32
Inherent dangers in the process of integration of the European public markets	37
The structure of public procurement of Member States	41

Chapter 3
The Evolution of European Public Procurement Law	53
The Public Supplies Regime	53
The Public Works Regime	59
The Public Utilities Regime	65
The Public Services Regime	73
The Compliance Directives	79
The GATT Agreement on Government Procurement	81
The new WTO Government Procurement Agreement	86
Chapter 4
The Mechanism of Integration of the European Public Markets	90
The principle mandatory advertisement and publication of public contracts	93
The monetary applicability of the Public Procurement Directives	95
Selection and Qualification Criteria	98
Legal requirements for the qualification of contractors	101
The list of recognised contractors	102
The Award of Public Contracts	103
Tendering procedures	103
The Award Criteria	107
Framework Agreements	109
In-house Contracts and Contracts to Affiliated Undertakings	109
Design Contests	110
Concession Contracts	111
Additional award criteria	112
Sub-contracting and public procurement	112
Local labour employment and Public Procurement	112
The award of Public Housing Schemes	112

Chapter 5
Enforcement of and Compliance with Public Procurement Law: A Critique of the System	114
Judicial control at centralised level	115
Proceedings before the European Court of Justice	119
The consequences of a judgment by the Court of Justice	120
Interim measures	122
Judicial control at domestic level	128
The award of damages under Community law	130
The judicial structure of Member States with reference to public procurement litigation	135
A critique of the national judicial structures in relation to public procurement cases	144
The Compliance Directives	146
The Award of Damages under the Compliance Directives	150
The Role of the European Commission under the Compliance Directives	153
Compliance with and enforcement of the rules under the WTO Government Procurement Agreement	156
Chapter 6
An Impact Assessment of the European Public Procurement Law and Policy	159
Inherent shortcomings in the Public Procurement rules	160
The dimensionality of public procurement	161
The effects of the principle of transparency	163
The abuse of award procedures which may restrict competition in the public markets	168
Public monopolies	175
Standardisation and specification	177
Reluctance in initiating litigation: a taxonomy of case law on public procurement	180
The effect of competitiveness in public procurement on the sustainability of certain industries	183

Chapter 7
Policy Choices and the Regulation Public Procurement in the Common Market	196
Social policy objectives in the award of public contracts	200
The notion of contract compliance	200
The transfer of undertakings and employees' protection in the context of public procurement	206
The interrelation of Public Procurement with Regional Development Policy	209
Preference purchasing schemes	212
The industrial policy dimension in public procurement	219
Concluding remarks	224
Index	226