A Companion to Celestina

By

Enrique Fernandez
Contents

Preface  IX
List of Illustrations  XI
Notes on Contributors  XIII

Introduction

1 The Significance of Celestina  3
Joseph T. Snow

Text, Origins and Sources

2 The Early Editions and the Authorship of Celestina  21
José Luis Canet

3 The Poetics of Voice, the Performance, and the Meaning of Celestina  41
Gustavo Illades Aguiar

4 Quotation, Plagiarism, Allusion, and Reminiscence: Intertextuality in Celestina  58
Amaranta Saguara García

5 Theater Without a Stage: Celestina and the Humanistic Comedy  74
Devid Paolini

6 Celestina in the Context of Fifteenth-Century Castilian Vernacular Humanism  94
José Luis Gastañaga Ponce de León

7 Minerva's Dog and Other Problematic Points in Celestina's Text  108
Fernando Cantalapiedra Erostarbe

8 Calisto and Leriano in Love  124
Ivy A. Corfis
The Story of Hero and Leander: A Possible Unknown Source of Celestina
Bienvenido Morros Mestres

Themes and Readings

"Aquellos antigos libros": Approaches to Parody in Celestina
Ryan D. Giles

Risky Business: The Politics of Prostitution in Celestina
Enriqueta Zafra

A Guidebook for Two Cities: The Physical and the Political Urban Space in Celestina
Raúl Álvarez-Moreno

Magic in Celestina
Patrizia Botta

Lovesickness and the Problematical Text of Celestina, Act 1
Ricardo Castells

Jesus and Mary, Christian Prayer, and the Saints in Celestina
Manuel da Costa Fontes

Eating, Drinking, and Consuming in the Tragicomedia de Calisto y Melibea
Connie L. Scarborough

Influence and Posterity

Modernity and Celestina: The Future of Our Past and of Our Present
Antonio Pérez-Romero

Celestina as a Precursor to the Picaresque
Ted L. L. Bergman