The Catholic Church and Social Change in Nicaragua

MANZAR FOROOHAR

Contents

Introduction ix

1. The Catholic Church in Nicaragua 1
   - Historical Background 1
   - The Nicaraguan Catholic Church and the Independence Movement 3
   - Conservative-Liberal Conflict and Foreign Intervention 6
   - Expulsion of Jesuits 9
   - Political Development and the Church 10
   - Zelaya and the United States 11
   - North American Direct Intervention 13
   - The Church and the North American Intervention 16
   - Sandino's Struggle 17
   - The Catholic Church and Sandino 21
   - The Liberal Government 22
   - The Catholic Church and Liberal Governments 24

2. Economic Formation and Sociopolitical Conflict 27
   - Agriculture 27
   - Industrial System 31
   - Sociopolitical Conflict 36
   - Political Opposition 43

3. The Response of Latin American Catholics to Socioeconomic Problems 45
   - Liberation Theology 50
The Church and Politics 51
Catholicism and Class Struggle 53
The Latin American Church and Class Struggle 55
The Catholic Church and Socialism 61
Conclusion 66

A Conservative Hierarchy 67
Radical Clergy 67
First National Pastoral Meeting 71
Public Expression of New Ideas 73
New Leadership in the Catholic Church 80

5. The 1972 Earthquake and the Aftermath 87
Growing Political Opposition 91
The Catholic Church and the Opposition 94
Unión Democrática de Liberación (UDEL) 98
Dissident Liberals 98
The Social Christian Party 99
The Conservative Opposition 101
The Socialists 101
Workers' Unions 102
UDEL's Program 104

6. The FSLN and the Progressive Church 111
Frente Sandinista de Liberación Nacional 112
The Student Movement and the FSLN 113
The Political Opposition and the Reforms of the 1960s 115
FSLN and the Catholic Church 117
Military and Political Work 119
The FSLN in the 1970s 120
Radicalization of the Christian Base Communities in Managua 124
The Process of Radicalization in Barrio Riguero, 1972–77 127
The Process of Radicalization in Barrio OPEN 3, 1972–77 135
Radicalization in San Pablo Parish 141
Rural Population and the Catholic Church 142
The Capuchin Fathers in Zelaya 147
Repression in Zelaya 148
Repression in Other Rural Communities 149
Transformation of the Peasantry and the Rural Church 152
Public Condemnation of the Repression 155

7. Intensification of the Political Conflict and Clarification of the Sociopolitical Alliance 159
   The October Offensive, National Dialogue, and the Role of the Church 163
   The Assassination of Pedro Joaquin Chamorro and the General Strike 176
   Collapse of the Bourgeois Leadership 183
   The FSLN and the Bourgeoisie 187
   The Last Attempt to Stop the Revolution: the United States, the Nicaraguan Bourgeoisie, and the Catholic Hierarchy 193

Epilogue 199

Notes 213

Bibliography 239

Index 255