THE POWER OF IDENTITY
Politics in a New Key

Kenneth R. Hoover
Western Washington University

with

James Marcia
Simon Fraser University

and

Kristen Parris
Western Washington University

CHATHAM HOUSE PUBLISHERS, INC.
Chatham, New Jersey
Contents

Preface

PART ONE
Identity, Power, and Authority

1. Why Identity?
   Identity and Systems of Power
   Identity among Other Concepts

2. Identity Formation in Theory and Practice
   Identity Formation: Learning from Observation
   The Foundations of Identity: Erikson's Theory of Human Development
   The Making of Identity: Competence and Integrity
   Feminist Critiques of Erikson: Anatomy and Gender
   The Making of Identity: Mutuality
   Operational Aspects of Identity: Competence, Integrity, and Mutuality

3. The Political Pathologies of Identity Formation
   Exploitation, Pseudo Speciation, and Negative Identities
   Identity: Foreclosure, Diffusion, and Authoritarianism
Tolerance and Democracy
Conclusion: Identity and the State in Perspective

4. Identity and Human Development 45
   Individualists versus Developmentalists
   Identity Analysis and Identity Politics
   Competence: Identity and the Market
   Integrity: Developing Shared Meanings
   Mutuality: Politics in the Affirmative
   Conclusion: The Uses of Identity Analysis

5. Identity, Multiculturalism, and Conflict Resolution 61
   Identity, Multiculturalism, and Democracy
   The Indigenous and the Universal
   Morality and Identity
   Ideology, Identity Analysis, and Multiculturalism

6. Democracy and Human Development 71
   Democracy as Social Learning
   Power and Authority in Governance
   Coercion and the Pathologies of Identity
   Democracy: Participation for the Sake of Human Development
   Public Policy: Ventures in Human Development

PART TWO
Identity and Politics: Evidence and Application

7. Ego Identity: Research Review, by James Marcia 85
   Personality Characteristics of the Identity statuses
   General Personality Characteristics
   Independence of External Pressure
   Ego Development
   Cognitive Performance and Cognitive Style
   Formal Operational Thinking and Identity Development
   Interactive Styles
   Developmental Aspects of the Identity statuses