The origins of the First and Second World Wars

Frank McDonough
Senior Lecturer
Liverpool John Moores University
Contents

Introduction

1 The origins of the First World War, 1871–1914
   The rise of Germany
   The impact of imperialism
   Kaiser Wilhelm, German world policy and German aims
   The drift towards alliances
   The Balkan Crisis, 1912–14
   1914: the July Crisis and decisions for war
   Document case study

2 The historians and the origins of the First World War
   War guilt: the changing debate
   Germany and the origins of war: Fritz Fischer and his critics
   The nature of the international system: alliances and diplomacy
   War by timetable? Militarism, armaments and war plans
   Nationalism
   An imperialist war? Marxist and economic explanations

3 The origins of the Second World War: 1 War and the fragile peace, 1914–33
   The ordeal of war, 1914–18
   The Paris Peace Settlement and its consequences
   The League of Nations and the limits of international co-operation, 1919–33
   The ‘German problem’ during the 1920s
   The Great Depression and its consequences
   Document case study

4 The origins of the Second World War: 2 From peace to global war, 1933–41
   The impact of Hitler
   The collapse of the League of Nations, 1935–37
   Neville Chamberlain, appeasement and the road to Munich, 1937–38
   The road to global war, 1938–41
   Document case study