POLITICAL COMMUNICATION
Rhetoric, Government, and Citizens

DAN F. HAHN
New York University

STRATA PUBLISHING, INC.
State College, Pennsylvania
Contents

Preface xi

Chapter One
Entering the Ongoing Argument 1
- Bases of Political Communication 1
- Major Contemporary Arguments 6

Chapter Two
Ideological Argumentation 13
- Ideology and Communication 14
- The American Ideology 17
- Liberalism and Conservatism 18

Chapter Three
Ideology and Media 29
- Conservative Perceptions of Bias 29
- Liberal Perceptions of Bias 31
- Perceiving Bias Where None Exists 34
- Not Perceiving Bias 35
- The Real Media Biases 36

Chapter Four
The Power of Definition 51
- On Defining “Definition” 51
- Functions of Definitions 53
- Government Defining via Naming 55
- Defining and Naming the Issues 59
- Defining and Naming People 63
- Redefining and Renaming 65
CHAPTER FIVE
The Power of Form 69
Perspective and Form 70
Identification 73
Action 75
Emotional Involvement 76
Logical/Rational 78
Strength 79
Honesty 80
Grandeur 81
Ideological Correctness 82

CHAPTER SIX
From Euphemisms to Lies 89
Lies 89
Euphemism 92
Simplifications 96
Generalizations 99
The Art of Saying Nothing 102
The Language Mechanisms in Combination 107

CHAPTER SEVEN
Myths and Metaphors 113
A Burkeian Approach to Language: Water Metaphors 113
Metaphor and “Terministic Compulsion” 116
Edelman and American Mythology 118
A Parentian Approach 121
Common Political Metaphors 126
Myths and American Ideology 127

CHAPTER EIGHT
Sexual Language and Politics 133
The Binary Discourse System 135
Sexual Metaphors 138
Effects on Women: The Mask of Beauty 141
Effects on Men: Invitation to War 149
Explanatory Hypotheses 155
Chapter Nine

The Marriage Metaphor in Politics 165
- False Intimacy in the White House 165
- The Presidential Inaugural as a Marriage Ceremony 171
- The Passionless Honeymoon of President George Bush 174
- Richard Nixon and the Presidential Divorce 181

Chapter Ten

Secrecy, Surveillance and Lies:
- Government Impediments to the Societal Dialogue 191
- Scope 193
- Are They Ever Legitimate? 194
- Relationship to Political Communication 198
- Relationship between Government and Citizens 200
- The “Chilling” Effect on Active Citizenship 202
- Destroying Our Trust in Government 203

Chapter Eleven

Media and Political Campaigns 209
- Effects of Media on Campaigns 209
- Eliminating Potential Candidates 211
- Effects on Primary Elections 212
- Effects on Nominating Conventions 213
- New Campaign Devices 215
- The Continuation of Barnstorming 218
- Issues and Images 220
- Distrust of Government and Politicians 221

Chapter Twelve

Effects of Mediated Campaigns on Voters 227
- The Mediated Campaign 228
- Media Coverage of Campaigns 234

Chapter Thirteen

Effects of the Media on Politicians 245
- The “Lowering” of Politicians 245
- Effect on Issues 246
- Effect on Rhetoric 247
CHAPTER FOURTEEN

Avoiding Media Influence 251

Personality Orientation 252
Leadership Ideal 256
Ideology 258
Epistemology 262
Axiology 267

SELECTED READINGS 273

INDEX 283

ABOUT THE AUTHOR 290