The Capture of Speech and Other Political Writings

michel de Certeau

Edited and with an Introduction by Luce Giard
Translated and with an Afterword by Tom Conley

University of Minnesota Press
Minneapolis
London
Contents

Introduction: How Tomorrow Is Already Being Born vii
   Luce Giard

Part I: May 1968 1

1. A Symbolic Revolution 3
   Impossible to Forget—Symbolic Action—A Revolution of Words

2. Capturing Speech 11
   An Event: The Capture of Speech—A Choice—Theory and Innovation—“Accident” or Principle?—“Symbolic” Demonstrations

3. The Power of Speech 25
   Language and Power: Representation—From the Capture of Speech to Speech “Recaptured”—The Power of Speaking—A Rift between “Saying” and “Doing”—The Law of “Disorder”

4. For a New Culture 41
   The Return of Language—From Events to History—The Same and the Other in Knowledge—A Problem of Civilization?

5. The Publishers’ Harvest: May Seen in September 49
   A General Presentation—Chroniclers—Sounds, Images, Quotables—Humor and Drawings—Three Dossiers—Eyewitness Accounts—The ORTF (French Radio and Television Service)—The March 22d Movement—Political Commentaries—To Explain or to Understand?

6. A Literature of Disquiet: A Year Later 61
   Reflective Points—An Annotated Bibliography
Contents

Part II: The Americas: A Political Awakening 77

7. Violent Mystics and Nonviolent Strategies 79
   The Guerrilla Martyr — “Impasses” and New Inroads of Popular Religion — Laboratories That Take Charge

Part III: The Everyday Nature of Communication 89
(with Luce Giard)

8. A Necessary Music 91
   Levels and Registers — Options — Needs

9. Priorities 101
   Orality — Operativeness — A Logic to Be Sought

10. Networks 107
    The Local — The Ethnic and the Familial — The Bonds of Labor

11. Operators 117
    Intermediaries — Media Shifters — The Practices of Circulation

12. Memories 129
    Life Stories — The Past of People Who Have No History

13. Propositions 133
    The Immigrant as a Social Figure of Communication — General Orientations — Proposed Measures

Part IV: Ethnic Economies 141

14. An Interethnic Encounter 143

15. Conceptual Assimilation 147
    An Ideological Eclecticism — Culture or Economics? — Individual Rights and Collective Rights — Masked Figures

16. The Active and Passive of Appurtenances 159
    Hybridizations — Politicizations — Lists of Practices

17. The School for Diversity 173

Afterword: The “Events” and Their Erosion 175

Notes 191

Index 213