CONTENTS

Abbreviations xi
Preface xiv
Introduction 1

PART ONE
Means and Methods of Naval Warfare

1 THE LEGALITY OF WAR ZONES 35
   I Introduction 35
   II The record of lawlessness: from the Lusitania to the Iranian Airbus 39
   III War zones and the dearth of legal codification 122
   IV War zones in legal thinking: the views of writers 135
   V On the elusive criterion of reasonableness 145
   VI Concluding remarks 157

2 LEGAL ASPECTS OF MINE WARFARE 166
   I Introduction 166
   II The mine strategy in historical perspective 170
   III Drafting rules for the mine trap: too long for too little 215
   IV Mine warfare in international jurisprudence and doctrinal writings 247
   V Progressing technology and static law: the missing interaction 257
   VI Concluding remarks 263

3 RUSES AND PERFIDY AT SEA 268
   I Introduction 268
   II Of Q-ships and secret raiders: World War practices revisited 273
THE LAWS OF NAVAL WARFARE

III The perennial debate on how to tell a ruse from perfidy 297
IV The legal theory at sea: the doctrinal discussion 319
V Chivalry in the electronic age: how far immaterial? 330
VI Concluding remarks 339

PART TWO
Belligerent Interference with Neutral Property at Sea

4 THE NOTION OF MARITIME NEUTRALITY 345
   I Introduction 345
   II Uncertain origins and tardy evolution of the concept of neutrality 348
   III The theory and practice of neutral conduct at sea in the twentieth century 366
   IV New challenges, old values: collective security versus neutrality 381
   V Concluding remarks 404

5 THE THEORY OF ABSOLUTE CONTRABAND 409
   I Introduction 409
   II The legal and factual parameters of the issue 413
   III Arms sales and the delusion of international control 421
   IV From neutrality to non-belligerency: the American paradigm 442
   V Trading arms in the 1980s: between euphoria and reality 467
   VI The threshold of abstention: the law in the books 506
   VII In search of positive law: the moral dimension 512
   VIII Concluding remarks 519

6 PRIZE LAW REVISITED 526
   I Introduction 526
   II The belligerent right of visit and search 529
   III The right to capture and the duty of initiating prize proceedings 575
   IV Condemned at sea: the problem of destruction of merchant vessels 616