Religion at the Service of Nationalism and Other Essays

Madhu Kishwar

DELHI
OXFORD UNIVERSITY PRESS
CALCUTTA CHENNAI MUMBAI
1998
Contents

Introduction vii

1. Gangster Rule: The Massacre of the Sikhs 1

2. 'This is the Guru's House . . .':
   A Day in the Longowal Gurudwara 47

3. Changing the Rules of the Political Game 77

4. Need to Re-establish Links:
   Some Discussions with Sikh Communities in North America 93

5. In Defence of Our Dharma 109

6. Criminalization of Politics 134

7. Safety is Indivisible:
   The Warning from Bombay Riots 149

8. Ways to Combat Communal Violence:
   Some Thoughts on International Women's Day 198

9. Pro-Women or Anti-Muslim?
   The Shah Bano Controversy 206

10. Breaking the Stalemate:
    Uniform Civil Code versus Personal Law 225

11. Stimulating Reform, not Forcing it:
    Uniform versus Optional Civil Code 233

12. Religion at the Service of Nationalism:
    An Analysis of Sangh Parivar Politics 248

13. Kashmir and Kashmiriyat:
    The Politics of Language, Religion and Region 279

14. Voices from Kashmir 285

15. To Sing or not to Sing:
    The National Anthem Controversy 313