PART 1 HARD REALITIES, HIGH IDEALS, AND GLOBAL INTERDEPENDENCE

1. IS IR “WINNER-TAKE-ALL”? CAN IT BE MUTUAL GAIN? 3

IR as a Fact and as a Field of Study 5
Where the Action Is: Key Actors and Levels of IR Analysis 6
Level 1: Individuals and Human Nature / 6
Level 2: Domestic Factors—State and Society / 7
Level 3: The International System of States / 7
Level 4: Transnational Organizations and Movements / 8
Level 5: The Biosphere / 9

Through What Lens Should You View IR? 11
Image 1: Realism—IR as a Struggle for Power / 11
   The Growth of Realism / 11
   Neorealism/Structuralism / 14
   The World-System (Dependency) School / 15
Image 2: Idealism—IR as a Quest for Harmony, Law, and Morality / 15
   The Growth of Idealism and Liberalism / 15
   Idealism in U.S. Policy / 17
   The New Idealists / 17
   Appraising Realism and Idealism / 19
Image 3: Interdependence—Mutual Vulnerability / 19
   Sources and Limits of Interdependence / 20
   Complex Interdependence / 22

The Art of the Deal: Divergent and Shared Interests 22
How to Negotiate: Claim or Create Values? 22
Why Cooperation Is Difficult 25
   Free-Riding: The Logic of Collective Action / 25
   The Security Dilemma / 25
   Prisoner’s Dilemma (PD) / 26
   How Relevant Is PD to IR? / 27
Why Cooperation Is Possible 27
   Coordination Games / 28
   Breaking the Spiral of Conflict / 28

The Best Alternative to No-Agreement (BATNA) / 28
The Frontier of Possibilities / 29
How to Approach Negotiation: Two Guidelines 30

2. HOW TO WIN AT PEACE: CREATING NEW WORLD ORDERS 33

Contending Concepts and Explanations 35
Three Ways to Make Peace and Build a New Order 36
   Approach 1: Carthage / 36
   Approach 2: Appomattox / 38
   Approach 3: Congress of Vienna / 39
Comparing Theory and Reality: Rebuilding After Each World War 40
The New Order After World War I: The Versailles System 40
   The U.S. and French Role / 40
   Why Did the Versailles System Fail? / 42
   German Revisionism / 43
   Nations Without States / 43
   A Power Vacuum in Eastern Europe / 45
   Economic Nationalism / 45
   No Collective Security / 45
   Zero-Sum Perspectives / 46
After World War II: Conflict and Mutual Gain 47
   The Marshall Plan/European Recovery Program (ERP) / 48
   Power Politics / 48
   Idealism / 48
   Interdependence / 48
   General MacArthur and Postwar Japan / 51
   The Soviet Empire: Exploitation and Dependency / 52
What Propositions Hold? What Questions Remain? 57
   Repression, Leniency, Integration 57
   The Uses of Open Diplomacy 58

3. FOREIGN POLICY DECISION MAKING: DO INDIVIDUALS COUNT? 61

Contending Concepts and Explanations: Is Anybody in Charge? How Action Levels Interact 63
Level 1: Individuals and Human Nature 63
How Personal Characteristics Can Shape Political Outcomes / 63
The Right Person at the Right Time / 64
Why Do Decision Makers Sometimes Misjudge? / 65
Level 2: Domestic Factors—State and Society / 66
A Unified Rational Actor? / 66
Sex, SOPs, and Different Drummers / 67
Level 3: The International State System / 67
Comparing Theory and Reality: The Cuban Missile Crisis / 69
The Unfolding of the Cuban Missile Crisis / 76
Why Did the Crisis Take Place? / 76
Why Did Khrushchev Gamble? / 76
The Balance of Strategic Power / 76
Individuals: The High Stakes Risk-Taker / 78
Soviet Politics / 78
Why Did Washington Doze? / 79
The Pragmatic Liberal vs. the Communist Gambler / 79
Bureaucratic Logjam / 80
Republicans and Democrats / 81
What Propositions Hold? What Questions Remain? / 82
Intertwining the Levels of Analysis / 82
What the Crisis Implies for Mutual Gain and Open Diplomacy / 83

4. WHY WAGE WAR? DOES IT PAY TO FIGHT? / 89
Contending Concepts and Explanations / 91
War—Creator, Destroyer, Reformer / 91
The Patterns of War / 91
The Scale and Frequency of War / 91
Internal War / 96
The Spectrum of Violence / 97
Cold War / 97
Unconventional War / 97
Conventional War / 97
Nuclear War / 98
Inexorable Rise or Escalation Ladder? / 98
Can War Be Rational? / 98
Can War Be Just? / 99
The Alternative of Nonviolence / 99
Why War? Inputs at Each Level of IR Action / 100
Does the “Balance of Power” Spell War or Peace? / 101
Comparing Theory and Reality: Global and Localized Wars / 102
Two Global Wars / 102

5. POWER AND INFLUENCE: WHAT WINS? / 131
Contending Concepts and Explanations / 133
How to Be Fit—Rugged Individualism or Mutual Aid? / 133
Internal Fitness / 134
External Fitness / 135
International System Fitness / 135
Coevolution: The Rise and Fall of Fitness Landscapes / 136
How Does Power Relate to Fitness and Influence? / 137
Basic Resources / 138
Economic Strength / 140
Political Leadership and Cohesion / 140
Military Strength / 140
Brain Power / 141
Universal Culture / 143
International Institutions / 143
Comparing Theory and Reality: Power and Influence at A.D. 2000 / 144
From Empires to Global Competitors / 144
Who Has What: The Pyramid of Power / 145
| The U.S. /146 | CFE /175 |
| Economic Strength / 146 | A Revolution in Arms Control and Disarmament: How Did It Happen? / 176 |
| Military: Systems of Systems / 146 | Horizontal Proliferation: How Many Players Should Have the Bomb? 177 |
| Social Health / 151 | Can the Genie Be Put Back in the Bottle? / 177 |
| The Other Major Players / 152 | “Loose Nukes” / 181 |
| Japan / 152 | Conventional Arms Proliferation 182 |
| China / 152 | What Propositions Hold? What Questions Remain? 184 |
| Russia / 153 | Interdependence, Mutual Gain, and Openness 184 |
| Germany / 153 | The Arms Control Paradox / 184 |
| The European Union / 153 | Is Parity Necessary for Arms Control? / 184 |
| Wild Cards / 154 | Does Arms Control Save, Make, or Lose Money? / 185 |

Did Geonomics Supersede Geopolitics and Military Force? 154

What Propositions Hold? What Questions Remain? 156

Power Does Not Assure Influence or Fitness 156

---

PART 2  FROM ANARCHY, ORDER?

6. WHY ARM? CAN SWORDS BECOME PLOWSHARES? 161

Contending Concepts and Explanations 163

What Is Security? 163

How Levels of IR Generate and Restrain Arms Competition 163

Key Individuals / 163

State and Society / 164

International Dynamics: The Security Dilemma and Multiple Symmetry / 164

Can Swords Become Plowshares? 165

Security Regimes: Arms Control and Disarmament / 165

Why Limit Arms—or Talk About It? / 165

How to Control Arms / 166

Comparing Theory and Reality: Controlling Vertical and Horizontal Proliferation 167

How the Vertical Volcano Grows and Subsides 167

The Genie Escapes the Baruch Plan / 167

How Much Terror for Deterrence? / 169

Can Defense Be Bad? How Do Attack and Defensive Weapons Interact? / 170

ABM, SALT, and MIRVs / 171

The Strategic Defense Initiative, or “Star Wars” / 172

Theater Ballistic Missile Defense / 173

Real Disarmament: INF, START 1 and 2, and CFE / 174

INF / 174

START / 175

The Great Power Triangle 194

The Spirit of Moscow, 1963 / 197

The “China Card” and/or SALT in 1972 / 199

Gorbachev GRIT / 203

How to Blend “Niceness” and “Toughness” / 205

Cross-Strait GRIT 205

GRIT Across the DMZ 208

Great Persuaders 211

What Propositions Hold? What Questions Remain? 212

How to Make Good Will Credible 212

8. NATIONALISM AND WORLD ORDER: PEOPLES AT RISK 215

Contending Concepts and Explanations 217

The Doctrine of National Self-Determination 217

Before Nationalism: “Us vs. Them” 217

Is Nation an Objective or Subjective Reality? 218

Is There a “National” Interest? 221
Is Every Nation a State? Every State a Nation? 222
Ethnic Minorities: Peoples at Risk / 223
Methods of Dealing with Ethnic Minorities / 224
Hard-Line Ways to Eliminate Ethnic Differences / 224
Conciliatory Ways to Manage Ethnic Differences / 225
Self-Determination vs. World Peace / 225
Comparing Theory and Reality: Self-Determination and World Order / 227
Case I: Why Did the U.S. Hold While Two Russian Empires Collapsed? 227
Civilization / 228
Voluntary vs. Coerced Participation / 228
Segmentation / 229
Language / 229
Democracy vs. Autocracy / 229
Case II: Why Did Singapore Prosper and Sri Lanka Implode? 230
Modernizing Nationalism / 231
How a Model Developing Country Ran Amok / 231
Case III: Why Does Switzerland Prosper While the South Slavs Fight? 233
Unity From Below and From Above / 233
Civilization / 234
Segmentation / 235
Stratification / 235
Power-Sharing / 237
The Breakup / 237
What Propositions Hold? What Questions Remain? 239

9. INTERVENTION AND MEDIATION: HOW CAN OUTSIDERS HELP? 243
Contending Concepts and Explanations 245
What Can Outsiders Do That Disputants Can't Do for Themselves? 245
Peaceful Settlement of Disputes and Peaceful Change 245
The Spectrum of Intervention—Passive and Active 246
What Are the Ingredients of a Successful Mediation? 248
The Mediator's Handbook: How to Bridge Differences 250
Comparing Theory and Reality: Lessons of Third-Party Interventions 252
Can the Holy Land Be Made Whole? 252
Jimmy Carter and Camp David, 1978 / 253
Johan Jorgen Holst and the 1993 Oslo Accords / 255

From Civil War to Majority Rule in Southern Africa 258
Lord Carrington at Lancaster House / 258
Peace Throughout Southern Africa / 260
Unresolved Conflicts: Mediations That Failed 260
"Superpower" Failures at Home and Abroad / 260
Rajiv Gandhi in Sri Lanka / 261
Northern Ireland / 262
Somalia, Haiti, Cambodia / 262
Soft and Hard Power in the Balkans 263
Why Intervention Faltered in the Early 1990s / 264
What Produced a Breakthrough in 1995? / 265
Mediations with Soft Power 268
What Propositions Hold? What Questions Remain? 269
Ingredients for Effective Mediation 269
Should a Mediator Sup with the Devil? 270

PART 3 INTERNATIONAL POLITICAL ECONOMY

10. DEMOCRACY AND AUTHORITARIANISM: WHAT IMPACT ON INTERNATIONAL PEACE AND PROSPERITY? 275
Contending Concepts and Explanations 277
Weaknesses of Democracy 279
Demagoguery / 279
Myopic Foreign Policy / 279
Unfairness / 279
Uncontrolled Individualism / 280
Strengths of Democracy 280
Least Bad / 280
Human Fulfillment / 280
Peace and Survival / 280
Weaknesses and Strengths of Authoritarianism 281
Decisiveness / 281
Information Blockage / 282
Abuse of Power / 282
Comparing Theory and Reality: Track Records of Authoritarianism and Democracy 282
Democracies Usually Defeat Authoritarian Regimes in War 282
Democracies Band Together and Rarely, If Ever, Fight Each Other 283
Why Don't Democracies Fight One Another? / 285
Too Few to Fight / 285
Common Interests / 285
Kant's Synergy / 285
Why the Liberal Peace? / 287
Institutional Limits on the Government's Power to Make War / 287
The Perception of Shared Norms / 287
The Spirit of Trade / 287
A Social Field / 287
Democratic States Are the Most Prosperous in History / 287
The Costs of Authoritarian Rule 288
Democracy Is Spreading 290
Can the Third Wave Hold? Can It Extend Further? 292
Three Prerequisites of Democracy / 292
Political Culture of Mutual Gain and Mutual Respect / 292
Markets and Middle Class / 296
Independence / 297
The Next Reverse Wave—How Strong? / 297
Disgust with Politics as Usual / 297
Can Free Markets Destroy Democracy? / 298
Can Outside Influences Promote Democratization? / 299
The Power of Example / 299
Teaching / 299
Advocacy / 299
Economic Pressures / 300
Openness / 300
Security / 301
What Propositions Hold? What Questions Remain? 301

11. THE WEALTH OF NATIONS: WEST MEETS EAST 305
Contending Concepts and Explanations 307
Quality of Life 307
The IPE of Value-Claiming and Value-Creation 308
1. Value-Claiming to Get and Keep Wealth: Mercantilism and Neomercantilism / 308
2. The Thesis of Value-Creating Liberalism: Laissez-Faire / 309
3. Value Redistribution to Build a New International Economic Order / 310
4. Neoliberalism: Private and Public Cooperation to Create Values / 311
How Countries and Firms Acquire Competitive Advantage / 314
Comparing Theory and Reality: Bottom-Up and Top-Down Development 315
The Liberal Thesis of Economic Autonomy: Is It Adequate? 315
Is Japan the Antithesis or a Variant? 317
Did Japan's Industrial Policy Succeed? / 318
Is Japan Retracing the U.S. Pattern? / 320
The Neoliberal Quest for Synthesis: The U.S. in the World Economy 320
The Clinton Technology Policy / 320
International Trade and Growth: Win-Win / 321
Mexico, Canada, and the U.S.: Are Free Trade and FDI Win-Win? / 322
Strategic Trade: Clinton's National Export Strategy / 325
Multilateral Trade: GATT and the World Trade Organization / 327
U.S. Inc. and Europe Inc. / 328
What Propositions Hold? What Questions Remain? 330
Roads to Wealth 330
Is Win-Win Possible? 332
Is Capitalism Doomed? 334

12. CHALLENGES OF DEVELOPMENT: SOUTH MEETS NORTH 337
Contending Concepts and Explanations 339
How Poor Is Poor? 339
Development and Underdevelopment 341
Dependency Theory and the World-System / 341
Modernization Theory and Internal Problems / 342
The State / 342
Community / 342
Inequality / 343
Gender Bias / 343
Multiple Sources of Exploitation / 344
Can Outsiders Help? / 345
Comparing Theory and Reality: What Path from Poverty? 345
Four Alternative Routes 345
1. Welfare Without Industrial Growth / 346
2. Against Dependency: Import-Substitution and a New Economic Order / 346
3. Self-Reliant Communism / 347
4. Export-Led Participation in the World Economic System / 348
Investment in Human Capital / 348
Outward-Looking Trade Strategies / 349
Land Reforms and Credit Reforms to Stimulate Private Initiative / 350
Accumulation of Physical Capital / 350
Good Governance / 350
The Role of Women in Development 350
How Can Outsiders Help? 355
International Law and World Peace 445
Does Might Make Right? / 446
1648 / 446
1789 / 446
1815 / 446
The Stimson Doctrine vs. The Right of Conquest / 446
1819 / 446
1928 / 447
1931 / 447
1932 / 447
When Nonrecognition Counts / 448
Collective Security: Korea and the Gulf War 448
Korea / 448
The Gulf War and After / 449
What Did the Gulf War Mean for World Order? / 452
Is There a Duty and Right to Intervene for Humanitarian Reasons? / 452
The United Nations as Peacekeeper 453
Peacekeeping During the Cold War / 453
Peacekeeping in the 1990s / 455
Did Intervention Do Any Good? / 458
Europe: From Functionalism to Supranationalism? 459
How Far Can Europe Unite? / 461
What Is “Europe”? / 463
Organizing for Human Welfare 465
Serving the Health of Nations / 465
Smallpox / 465
Primary Health Care / 466
Malaria / 467
Infant Formula / 468
HIV/AIDS / 469
Complex Humanitarian Emergencies—The Red Cross in Tajikistan / 469
What Propositions Hold? What Questions Remain? 472
Hope or Despair? 472
International Organization as an Emergent Force 473

16. INTERNATIONAL PROTECTION OF HUMAN RIGHTS: SHAM OR REVOLUTION? 477
Contending Concepts and Explanations 479
Do the Free Owe Anything to the Unfree? 479
State Sovereignty vs. Outside Intervention 479
The Duty and Right to Intervene 480
Comparing Theory and Reality: Revolutions in Awareness and Action 482
Breaking the Bonds of Slavery 482
Laws of War: Prisoners and Noncombatants 486
War Crimes 487
Genocide in Peace or War 488
The Universal Declaration and Covenants 492
Women’s Rights as Human Rights 494
Can InternationalPressure Enhance Human Rights Observance? 496
The CSCE-Helsinki Process: Democracies Against Dictatorships / 496
Pressure and Preaching: The China Case / 498
China in the 1990s / 500
No Political or Civil Rights / 500
Cultural Genocide / 500
Religious Persecution / 500
Indifference to Law / 501
The Zigs and Zags of U.S. Policy Toward Human Rights 502
What Propositions Hold? What Questions Remain? 504

17. ALTERNATIVE FUTURES: LESSONS FROM THE PAST 509
Is It Possible to Build a Better World? 511
Which Approach Works Best? Win-Lose, Win-Win, Conditional Cooperation? 513
Into the 21st Century: Alternative Futures 521
I. Unipolar Stability / 522
II. Fragmented Chaos / 523
III. Challenge to the Hegemon / 524
IV. Bipolar Cooperation / 525
V. Multipolar Cooperation / 526
VI. Global Governance Without World Government / 527
Which Scenario Is Best? Which Is Most Feasible? / 529
One World or Many? 529
Global Consciousness: Education for One World 530
Policies for One World 530

Glossary 535
Learning About International Relations: A Study and Resource Guide 545
Photo and Cartoon Credits 553
Index 555