Contents

Preface

Introduction

1 Setting the framework

JAY WINTER

Pembroke College, Cambridge

EMMANUEL SIVAN

Hebrew University of Jerusalem

2 Forms of kinship and remembrance in the aftermath of the Great War

JAY WINTER

3 War, death, and remembrance in Soviet Russia

CATHERINE MERRIDALE

University of Bristol

4 Agents of memory: Spanish Civil War veterans and disabled soldiers

PALOMA AGUILAR

Universidad Nacional de Educación a Distancia, and Juan March Institute, Madrid

5 Children as war victims in postwar European cinema

PIERRE SORLIN

University of Paris - III

6 From survivor to witness: voices from the Shoah

ANNETTE WIEVIORKA

CNRS, Paris

7 Landscapes of loss and remembrance: the case of Little Tokyo in Los Angeles

DOLORES HAYDEN

Yale University
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Chapter</th>
<th>Title</th>
<th>Author(s)</th>
<th>University</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>8</td>
<td>The Algerian War in French collective memory</td>
<td>Antoine Prost</td>
<td>University of Paris - I</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>9</td>
<td>Private pain and public remembrance in Israel</td>
<td>Emmanuel Sivan</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10</td>
<td>Personal narratives and commemoration</td>
<td>Samuel Hynes</td>
<td>Princeton University</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>11</td>
<td>Against consolation: Walter Benjamin and the refusal to mourn</td>
<td>Martin Jay</td>
<td>University of California at Berkeley</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Index 240