Contents

Preface xi

1. Introduction 1
   Cynthia J. Arnson

Part I: Case Studies and Issues

2. From Low-Intensity War to Low-Intensity Peace: The Nicaraguan Peace Process 31
   Rose J. Spalding
   Reflections by Alejandro Bendaña 65

3. Political Transition and Institutionalization in El Salvador 69
   Antonio Cañas and Héctor Dada

4. Peace and Democratization in Guatemala: Two Parallel Processes 97
   Dinorah Azpuru
   Reflections by Julio Balconi 127

5. The Peace Process in Chiapas: Between Hope and Frustration 129
   Neil Harvey
   Reflections by Michael Conroy 153

6. Negotiating Peace amid Multiple Forms of Violence: The Protracted Search for a Settlement to the Armed Conflicts in Colombia 159
   Marc Chernick

Appendix: Colombia’s Major Guerrilla Movements 196
Reflections by Jesús Antonio Bejarano 201

7. Peace in Peru: An Unfinished Task
   Carlos Basombrío 205

8. The Decimation of Peru’s Sendero Luminoso
   Cynthia McClintock 223

Reflections by Carlos Iván Degregori 251

9. The Role of the United Nations in El Salvador and Guatemala:
   A Preliminary Comparison
   Teresa Whitfield 257

Reflections by Jean Arnault 291

10. Between Memory and Forgetting: Guerrillas, the Indigenous
    Movement, and Legal Reform in the Time of the EZLN
    Luis Hernández Navarro 297

11. Indigenous Identity and Rights in the Guatemalan Peace
    Process
    Roger Plant 319

Part II: Consolidating Peace and Reform

12. Truth, Justice, and Reconciliation: Lessons for the International Community
    José Zalaquett 341

13. In Pursuit of Justice and Reconciliation: Contributions of Truth Telling
    Priscilla B. Hayner 363

Reflections by Alvaro de Soto 385

    America
    George R. Vickers 389
Contents

Reflections by Francisco Thoumi 415

15. Postconflict Political Economy of Central America 417
   Rachel M. McCleary

Reflections by James K. Boyce 437

Reflections by Gerhard Henze 443

16. Conclusion: Lessons Learned in Comparative Perspective 447
   Cynthia J. Aronsohn

Contributors 465

Index 473