Contents

Preface ........................................................................................................ xv

Chapter 1. Introduction: What Is Foreign Policy? ..................................... 1
  Traditional Actors in the International State System .......................... 1
  Other Actors in the International State System ................................. 2
  Modes of Behavior in the International State System ....................... 2
  Foreign Policy: A Definition ................................................................. 5

Chapter 2. Goals and Objectives of American Foreign Policy ............... 9
  Clusters of U.S. Foreign Policy Goals ................................................. 10
    Promotion of American National Interest ....................................... 10
    Promotion of American Economic Security .................................... 17
    Promotion of Moral Idealism ......................................................... 20
    Containment of Perceived Communist and Soviet Expansionism .................................................. 26
  The Search for a New World Order: From Bush to Clinton ............... 46

Chapter 3. Determinants of American Foreign Policy ......................... 57
  The External Environment or International Setting .......................... 57
    Variables in the External Setting .................................................... 64
    Summary: The External Environment ............................................. 69
  America’s Societal Environment or Domestic Setting ..................... 69
    America’s Location, Size, and Natural and Human Resources ..................................................... 70
    The Structure of American Society .............................................. 70
    The Historical Experience of the American People ...................... 71
    The Core Beliefs and Values of American Society ....................... 72
    The Structure of American National Government ....................... 74
  Individual Personalities and Characteristics ..................................... 75
    Woodrow Wilson ........................................................................... 76
    John Foster Dulles ......................................................................... 77
    John F. Kennedy ............................................................................ 78
    Jimmy Carter ................................................................................. 80
    Ronald Reagan .............................................................................. 81
    George Bush .................................................................................. 82
    Summary: Individuals ..................................................................... 82
Chapter 4. Three Case Studies of American Foreign Policy Behavior

- U.S. Neutrality on the Italo-Ethiopian Conflict, 1934–1936 89
- The U.S. Intervention in Vietnam 91
- The Cuba Policy 99

Chapter 5. The Development of American Foreign Policy: A Survey

- Securing Diplomatic Independence: 1783–1898 115
- George Washington Recommends Foreign Policy Principles 118
- Washington’s Successors Enhance His Foreign Policy Legacy 120
- Emergence as a World Power: The Diplomacy of Expansion 124
- Territorial Purchase 124
- Territorial Expansion Through Treaties 125
- Westward Settlement 126
- Territorial Annexations 126
- Trade Expansion 128
- Intervention in World War I 131
- Woodrow Wilson’s Postwar Plans 134
- The Isolationist Interlude: 1921–1941 138
- The Road to World War II 139
- America and World War II 140
- The Japanese Surprise Attack on Pearl Harbor 143
- Toward Victory in Europe and Japan: Emergence as a Superpower 145
- The United States and the Postwar World 145
- The American National Style in Foreign Policy 153

Chapter 6. The U.S. Constitution and American Foreign Policy 165

- Constitutional Provisions for the Conduct of American Foreign Relations 166
- The Constitutional Division of Authority in Foreign Affairs 167
- Constitutional Powers of Congress: A Summary 171
- Constitutional Powers of The Presidency: A Summary 172
- Informal Powers of The Presidency: A Summary 175
- Uncertainties in the Constitutional Distribution of Foreign Affairs Powers 176
Contents

Areas of Controversy Between The Presidency and Congress in Foreign Affairs .......................... 177
   War Powers versus Commander-in-Chief .............................................. 178
   Treaty-Making Powers ................................................................. 183
   General Budgetary Powers versus Budget Impoundment ......................... 188
   Sharing of Information on Foreign Policy Issues .................................. 191
Summary ........................................................................................................ 193

Chapter 7. Institutions of American Foreign Policy I .......... 199
   The Presidency and American Foreign Policy ..................................... 199
   The Growth of Presidential Authority in Foreign Affairs ................. 201
   Presidential Bureaucracy ...................................................................... 208
   Presidential Foreign Policy Management ....................................... 213
   The Presidency, Congress, and Foreign Policy Since 1945 ............... 234
   Congress and American Foreign Policy ........................................... 240
   Advantages of Congress’ Participation in Foreign Policy ................. 242
   Obstacles to Congress’ Participation in Foreign Policy ....................... 242
   Measures Congress May Use to Influence Foreign Policy .................. 244
   The Courts and American Foreign Policy ........................................... 246

Chapter 8. Institutions of American Foreign Policy II ........ 253
   Public Opinion and American Foreign Policy ................................... 257
   Means of Ascertaining Public Opinion .............................................. 258
   The Impact of Public Opinion ............................................................ 259
   The Media, Public Opinion, and the Foreign Policy Process ............ 262
   Elections and Foreign Policy ............................................................... 264
   Interest Groups and Foreign Policy .................................................... 267
   Foreign Policy Aims and Activities of Interest Groups ...................... 268
   The Impact of Interest Groups ............................................................ 272
   The Impact of Ethnic Groups .............................................................. 273
   Political Parties and Foreign Policy ................................................... 278

Chapter 9. American Foreign Policy Bureaucracies .......... 289
   The Department of State ................................................................. 290
   The Core of the State Department’s Work ...................................... 295
   The Foreign Service Corps ............................................................... 296
   Declining Role of the State Department in Foreign Policy ............. 298
Other Agencies within the State Department .......................... 303
The Department of Defense ........................................... 305
Organization of the Defense Department .......................... 307
Foreign Policy Role of the Armed Services ......................... 308
The Intelligence Community ........................................... 311
The Mission of the Intelligence Community ........................ 312
Types of Intelligence ..................................................... 313
Intelligence Cycle ....................................................... 313
Members of the Intelligence Community ............................. 315
The Central Intelligence Agency ....................................... 316
Measures to Control the CIA's Covert Operations ................ 319
Problems in the Process and Use of Intelligence ................... 322

Chapter 10. Economic Bureaucracies and Instruments of Foreign Policy .................................................. 329
Department of the Treasury ........................................... 329
Department of Commerce .............................................. 330
Department of Agriculture ............................................ 331
Economic Statecraft ..................................................... 331
Economic Instruments of Foreign Policy ............................ 333
An Assessment of Economic Statecraft .............................. 344
Foreign Aid ............................................................... 347
The Purpose and Objectives of U.S. Foreign Aid .................. 349
Evaluation of Foreign Aid as a Tool of Foreign Policy ............ 355

Chapter 11. Conclusion .................................................. 363

Index ........................................................................... 377

List of Chronology, Documents, and Tables

Chronology
5.1 Demarcating Periods in American Foreign Policy .......... 116

Documents
2.1 U.S. National Interests and Strategic Goals .................. 11
2.2 Defining National Interest ........................................ 13

Reprinted with permission from Honorable Congressman Lee H. Hamilton
2.3 Foreign Policy Objectives Recommended by Carnegie Endowment for International Peace National Commission ........................................ 14

2.4 Typical Impact of Communist and Soviet Threat on U.S. Foreign and Domestic Policy During the Cold War ... 28
Reprinted with permission from IS Notes

4.1 America’s Embargo of Cuba: What Result After 35 years? .......................................................... 106
Reprinted with permission from Christian Science Monitor, Copyright 1997 by the Christian Science Publishing Society

5.1 Woodrow Wilson’s Fourteen Points ........................................... 136

6.1 Constitutional Powers of Congress in Foreign Affairs ... 168
6.2 Constitutional Powers of the Presidency in Foreign Affairs .................................................. 169

Tables

1.1 UN Membership: 1945–1994 ........................................... 3
3.1 Multinational Corporations: The 20 Largest Multinational Corporations Ranked by Foreign Assets ... 67
9.2 The U.S. Foreign Affairs Budget: Height of Cold War versus Today ........................................ 292
Original Source: U.S. Department of State.
Reprinted with permission from Foreign Policy 108 (Fall 1997) Copyright 1997 by the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace

9.3 U.S. Embassy and Consulate Closings Since the End of the Cold War (FY 1991–1996) ................. 301
Original Source: U.S. Department of State.
Reprinted with permission from Foreign Policy 108 (Fall 1997) Copyright 1997 by the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace

10.1 U.S. Imposed and Supported Multilateral Economic Sanctions ........................................... 339
10.2 Foreign Development Assistance as a Percentage of GNP (1995) ........................................... 356