GER DUIJZINGS

Religion and the Politics of Identity in Kosovo

HURST & COMPANY, LONDON
CONTENTS

Preface and Acknowledgements page ix

Chapters

1. Introduction 1
   Kosovo as an ethnic shatter zone 5
   The concept of identity 18
   States and the politics of identity 22
   Religion and religious regimes 27
   Violence, identity and the nation-state 32

2. The Exodus of Kosovo Croats: A Chronicle of Ethnic Unmixing 37
   An ethnographic sketch of Letnica 38
   Letnica 1992 45
   The exodus 47
   Resettlement in Western Slavonia 52

3. Christian Shrines and Muslim Pilgrims: Joint Pilgrimages and Ambiguous Sanctuaries 65
   The Muslim Gypsy pilgrimage to Gračanica 66
   Zociste: the end of a 'mixed' pilgrimage 71
   Unrest in the Ostrog monastery 76
   Ambiguous sanctuaries and dervish orders 79
   The Bektashi order and Sari Saltuk 80

4. The Martyrs of Stublla: Albanian Crypto-Catholics and the Franciscan Mission 86
   A historical survey of the parish of Letnica 87
   The Martyrs of Stublla, 1846-48 89
   The Tanzimat reforms and the Franciscan offensive 95

5. Albanian Dervishes versus Bosnian Ulema: The Revival of Popular Sufism in Kosovo 106
   Dervishes under attack from Serbian nationalists 108
   Dervish orders in Kosovo: a survey 111
Preface and Acknowledgments

Polemics between Kosovar sheikhs and the Islamic Community 118
Shi’ite tendencies 120
The revival and its background 124

6. The Making of Egyptians in Kosovo and Macedonia 132
The ethnonym ‘Egyptian’ 134
The Egyptians in Yugoslavia 139
Serbian and Macedonian support 142
Former Albanianization of the Egyptians 144
Ethnic mimicry among Gypsies 147
Censuses and ethnic strife: large groups swallow small ones 150

7. Naim Frashëri’s Qerbelaja: Religion and Nationalism among the Albanians 157
Albanian nationalism and overcoming religious divisions 158
Frashëri’s blend of Albanian nationalism and Bektashi doctrine 165
The Bektashis’ response 169
Frashëri’s failure to promote Bektashism as the national creed 174

8. The Kosovo Epic: Religion and Nationalism among the Serbs 176
The theme of suffering 178
The Kosovo myth 182
Kosovo in the Active Mood 187
Folk poetics and populist politics 192
The recent political use of the myth 196
Republika Srpska as the realm of the Kosovo spirit 201

9. Conclusion 203

References 211
Index 228