Comparative Perspectives on the Role of Education in Democratization
Part I: Transitional States and States of Transition

edited by
Noel F. McGinn and Erwin H. Epstein
Table of Contents

Acknowledgments........................................................................................................................................... vii

Introduction .................................................................................................................................................... 1

Section 1: Global Limits of Democratization

Noel F. McGinn
Education, Democratization, and Globalization: A Challenge for Comparative Education ................................................................. 23

Aaron Benavot
Education and Political Democratization: Cross-National and Longitudinal Findings ............................................................. 45

Matthew Christenson and Edward Crenshaw
Democracy's Handmaiden: The Influence of Mass Education on Political and Economic Change .......................................................... 81

Section 2: Transitions from Centralized Authority

Noel F. McGinn and Susan Street
Educational Decentralization: Weak State or Strong State? ................................................................. 117

E. Mark Hanson
Democratization and Decentralization in Colombian Education ......................................................................................... 143

Jim Carl
Parental Choice as National Policy in England and the United States ..................................................................................... 167

Section 3: Post-colonial Transitions

Joseph W. Elder
The De-Colonization of Educational Culture: The Case of India ......................................................................................... 207
Robert F. Lawson
The Evolution of Democratic Education in South Africa ....................... 219

Erwin H. Epstein
The Peril of Paternalism: The Imposition of Education on Cuba by the United States ................................................................. 241

Section 4: Transitions Under Socialism

Barry Sautman
Politicization, Hyperpoliticization, and Depoliticization of Chinese Education ........................................................................... 269

Jonathan Jansen
The State and Curriculum in the Transition to Socialism: The Zimbabwean Experience ................................................................. 297

Sheryl L. Lutjens
Rectification, Participation, and Education in Cuba .............................. 319

Section 5: Transitions From Socialism

Elena Lisovskaya
The Dogmatism of Ideology: Content Analysis of Communist and Postcommunist Russian Textbooks .................................................. 367

Antoinette Errante
Regaining Sight of Democracy in Mozambique ....................................... 397

Robert F. Arno
Education as Contested Terrain in Nicaragua ....................................... 439

Topical Index ....................................................................................... 471

Name Index ......................................................................................... 479

List of Contributors ........................................................................... 497