Citizens and the New Governance
Beyond New Public Management

EGPA Yearbook

Edited by

Luc Rouban
Chargé de Recherche au CNRS, Fondation Nationale des Sciences Politiques, Centre d'Étude de la Vie Politique Française, France
Contents

Foreword, Ignace Snellen

Introduction: Citizens and the New Governance, Luc Rouban
What Kind of a Citizen for What Kind of State?, Françoise Dreyfus
Transparency and Citizen Participation, Stefan Sjöblom
Citizens and the Quality of Public Administration in Greece, Calliope Spanou
The Improvement Policy of Services to the Users in France in the Face of Equity Requests, Philippe Warin
Recent Legislative Innovations in the Greek Administrative Institutions: The Example of the "Citizen's Advocate" Institution or the Greek Ombudsman, Panagiotis E. Poulis
The Experience of France's "Family" Welfare Office: Lessons in the Search for New Management Techniques, Michel Chauvière
Unions of Civil Servants and the Quality of Governance in France, Jeanne Siwek-Pouydesseau
Citizens and the Quality of Public Action: Seeking a New Form of Management. Public Participation and Contracting Practices in France, Nicole de Montricher
The Safeguarding of Public Service Users in Italy and the "Carta dei Servizi Pubblici", Stefano Battini
Partnership Boards in Northern Ireland: An Administrative Innovation in Active Citizenship or Another Quango?, Derek Birrell and Ann Marie Gray
New Public Management and Its Critics. Alternative Roads to Flexible Service Delivery to Citizens?, Carsten Greve and Peter Kragh Jespersen
Between Autonomy and Subordination: Bureaucratic Legitimacy and Administrative Change in Germany, Klaus H. Götz
The Fallacies of New Public Management – Can They Still Be Prevented in the Austrian Context?, Barbara Liegl
The Consumption of Best Practices. How to Understand New Public Management, Tarja Saarelainen

Reports of the Permanent Study Groups of the EGPA

Informatisation in Public Administration: Re-Territorialisation in a Framework of De-territorialisation? Geographic Information Systems in Public Administration, Wim van de Donk and John Taylor
Personnel Policies, David Farnham, Annie Hondeghem and Sylvia Horton
Productivity and Quality in the Public Sector, Geert Bouckaert and Petri Uusikylä
Public Finance and Management, Mihaly Hogye
Cooperation in Continuing Education, Training, Research and Consulting between Eastern and Western Europe, György Jenei 217
Contractualisation in the Public Sector since 1980, Yvonne Fortin and Hugo Van Hassel 223

About EGPA

The organisation, its objectives and activities 233
Publications of EGPA 235

Author Index 239