Policing Citizens: Authority and Rights

P.A.J. Waddington
Contents

1. What is Policing?
   Introduction 1
   What Officers Do – An Anecdote 1
   The Same the Whole World Over? 3
   Crime-Fighters? 4
   Peacekeeping and Service? 12
   Monopolists of Force? 15
   Exercising Authority 20
   Policing, Citizens and the State 20
   Policing Non-Citizens: The Colonial Example 24
   Continental and Other Forms of Policing 26
   Contesting Citizenship 28
   Conclusion 30

2. Keeping People in Their Place 31
   Introduction 31
   Discretion in Policing 31
   A Flawed Perspective 38
   Policing Subordination and Exclusion 45
   Citizenship and Resistance 61
   Negotiating Respectability 62
   Keeping People in Their Place 63

3. Keeping Dissent in Its Place 64
   Introduction 64
   Criminals, Citizens and the State 64
   Creating a Duopoly of Force 69
   Control through Inclusion 70
   “Ordinary Decent Protesters” 73
   A Common Democratic Solution 74
   Civil Rights: Contesting Citizenship 75
   Reversing Inclusion 78
CONTENTS

Policing Divided Societies 84
The Resurgence of Militarization 87
Conclusion 95

4. Thought, Talk and Action 97
Introduction 97
Are Police Officers Born or Made? 97
Continuities in Explanations of Police Behaviour 102
Appreciating the “Oral Tradition” of Policing 109
Conclusion 120

5. Abusing Authority 121
Introduction 121
Bribery and Corruption 121
The Invitational Edges of Corruption 125
“Bending” and “Breaking the Rules” 127
Excessive Force 149
Conclusion 158

6. Controlling Police Officers 159
Introduction 159
Regulating Police Wrongdoing 159
Conclusion 183

7. Controlling Police Organizations 184
Introduction 184
Independence and Control 184
Impartiality, Discretion and Law 191
Accommodating Constitutional Tensions 195
Abuses of Power 196
A Mechanism for Restraint? 197
Making a Difference 201
Constructing Constitutionalism 204

8. Reform and Change 206
Introduction 206
Community Policing 206
Police Management 226
Privatization 243
Conclusion 249

Bibliography 251
Index 296