Contents

Preface ix

1 Introduction: the problem of collective action 1
   The provision of public and other non-excludable goods 5
   The Prisoners' Dilemma 13
   The problem of collective action 18
   Time and the lone exploiter 20
   Solutions? Community, states, entrepreneurs, property rights and norms 21
   Plan of the rest of the book 30

2 The Prisoners' Dilemma, Chicken and other games in the provision of public goods 34
   Alternatives to the Prisoners' Dilemma 35
   An N-person game of Chicken 40
   Mutual aid, fisheries and voting in committees 43
   Pre-commitment as a risky decision and the prospects for cooperation in Chicken games 45
   Continuous strategy sets 49
   Cournot analysis 56
   A summary remark 58

3 The two-person Prisoners' Dilemma supergame 60
   Supergames 60
   Unconditional Cooperation and Defection 64
   The possibility of conditional Cooperation 65
   An Assurance game 67
   Conditions for \((B, B)\) to be an equilibrium 67
   Axelrod's tournaments 69
   Coordination equilibria 71
   Other mutual Cooperation equilibria 73
   Taking it in turns to Cooperate 76
   Outcomes 78
CONTENTS

4 The N-person Prisoners' Dilemma supergame 82
   Payoffs in the constituent game 83
   Unconditional Cooperation and Defection 84
   Conditional Cooperation 84
   Subgroups of Cooperators 88
   Chickens nesting in the Prisoners’ Dilemma supergame 92
   Other Cooperative equilibria 94
   An example 96
   Alternation between blocks of conditional cooperators 99
   Summary and discussion of results 104
   A more realistic model 105

5 Altruism and superiority 109
   Altruism in two-person games 112
   An N-person Game of Difference 122

6 The state 125
   Hobbes's Leviathan 126
   Hume's Leviathan 150

7 Epilogue: cooperation, the state and anarchy 164
   International anarchy 165
   The destruction of community 166
   The decay of voluntary cooperation 168
   Rationality 175

Annex: the theory of metagames 180

   Notes 185
   Bibliography 198
   Index 203