Preface ix

1. Introduction: From Noble Savage to Savage Noble 1
   Outline of a Political Genealogy

Part 1: The Three Domains of Genealogy

2. The Subject of Political Discourse 19
   The Discourse of Threat: Hobbes and the Social Contract Tradition
   Discursive Regimes and the Order of the Political

3. Power and the Political Subject 37
   You Are What You Eat: The Perils of "Indianization"
   Disciplinary Power: The Fabrication of Modern Identity
   Enunciative Modalities: From Wilderness to Nation

4. Political Subjectivation and Self-Formation 63
   Technologies of the Self: Sex/Ethics/Politics
   The Cultivation of Individuality:
      J. S. Mill's Manual of Autonomous Selfhood
   The Political Spectrum: Liberals, Conservatives, and the Ethics of Toleration

Part 2: Against Identity

5. Governmentality and the Axes of Political Experience 95
   A Matrix of Experience
   The State and/of Governmentality
   The Political Technology of Individuals
6. "The Most Perfect Freedom"
On the Polarities of Political Freedom:
  Rousseau and Nozick
Countering Memory: Different Freedoms/Freedoms of Difference
Freedom and the Politics of Transformation

7. Genealogy and Other-Politics:
Conclusions, Implications, Applications
The Foucault Conundrum
Political Theory on the Horizon

Notes

Bibliography

Index