Multilingual Capital

The languages of London’s schoolchildren and their relevance to economic, social and educational policies

edited by

Philip Baker and John Eversley

Battlebridge Publications
2000
Contents

Preface  The Right Honourable The Lord Mayor Clive Martin OBE TD DL  1

Photographs: around town  2

Introducing the Languages of London project  Philip Baker & John Eversley  3

Photographs: music and dance  4

The languages of London's schoolchildren  Philip Baker & Yasir Mohieldeen  5

Section 11: a brief history  John Eversley  61

Using the schools' language data to estimate the total number of speakers of London's top 40 languages  Marian Storkey  63

The educational performance of London pupils in context  Ian McCallum  67

Photographs: international news  70

Languages speak volumes for global business  Andy Land  71

Photographs: international cuisine  72

Languages and the Square Mile  Tim Connell  73

Ethnic and linguistic diversity: the impact on local authority expenditure  Jo Mennell  81

An indicator for health needs of minority ethnic communities in the capital  Pui-Ling Li  83

Photographs: religious diversity  84

Coming to school in London from abroad  Nazir Moya / Satish Naidu / Luis Gonzalez  85

Photographs: international shopping  86

Towards obtaining better data on the languages of London's schoolchildren  Philip Baker & Antony Sanderson  87

Index  91