Ethics in Public Service for the New Millennium

Edited by
RICHARD A. CHAPMAN
Durham University Business School

Ashgate
Aldershot • Burlington USA • Singapore • Sydney
Contents

Notes on Contributors v

Workshop Participants x

Acknowledgements xii

Abbreviations xv

1 Introduction
Richard A. Chapman 1

2 Corruption in Local Government – some ethical issues of the last twenty-five years
Rodney Brooke 9

3 Parliament and Ethical Behaviour
Micahel Hunt 23

4 The Ethics of Equal Opportunities
Susan Corby 35

5 Courts, Parliament, and Public Authorities under the British Human Rights Act 1998
George J. Szablewski 51

6 The Public Interest: A Political and Administrative Convenience?
Barry J. O'Toole 71

7 Setting Standards in a New Organization: The Case of the British Civil Service Commission
Richard A. Chapman 93

8 The Inherently Unethical Nature of Public Service Ethics
Lawrence Pratchett 111

9 Is Democracy a Substitute for Ethics?
Administrative Reform and Accountability
B. Guy Peters 127
10 Democratic Accountability and Models of Governance: Purchaser/Provider, Owner/Trustee
Colin Campbell

11 Contracting, the Enterprise Culture and Public Sector Ethics
Martin Painter

12 Between Autonomy and Accountability: Hong Kong's Senior Civil Servants in Search of an Identity
Anthony B.L. Cheung

13 Ethics, Governance, and Constitutions: The Case of Baron Haussmann
John A. Rohr

14 Ethics in Public Service for the New Millennium
Richard A. Chapman

Index