Challenges to Representative Democracy: "Parties, Voters and Public Opinion"

Hanne Marthe Narud and Toril Aalberg (eds.)
Contents

Part I
INTRODUCTION .................................................. 15

Chapter 1
Challenges Facing Representative Democracy .......... 17
_Hanne Marthe Narud and Toril Aalberg_
  - Introduction .................................................. 17
  - Representative Democracy ................................. 18
  - Electoral Change ............................................ 20
  - Electoral Theory Revisited .............................. 22
  - Trust and Confidence in Political Institutions .......... 35
  - Mass Constraints on Representative Democracy .......... 40

Part II
GOVERNMENT INSTITUTIONS AND DEMOCRATIC PERFORMANCE ........................................ 47

Chapter 2
Voter Sovereignty and Parliamentary Democracy .......... 49
_Kaare Strom_
  - Parliamentarism ............................................. 51
  - Delegation .................................................... 56
  - A Delegation Model ......................................... 60
  - Voter Sovereignty ............................................ 64
  - Containing Agency Loss ..................................... 66
  - Conclusion .................................................... 69

Chapter 3
Where is the Outrage?
Moral Authority and Political Trust ......................... 71
_Arthur H. Miller_
  - Relevant Literature .......................................... 73
  - Public Reactions to the Scandal .......................... 75
Chapter 4
Confidence in Politicians and Institutions:
Comparing National and Local Levels ........................................... 93
Lawrence E. Rose and Per Arnt Pettersen
Explaining the Level of Positive Perceptions –
Theoretical Expectations ................................................................. 97
Confidence in Selected Political Objects – A First View .................. 107
Variations in Confidence – What Makes a Difference? .................. 111
Discussion and Conclusion ............................................................. 119
Methodological Appendix – Operationalization of Variables ........ 123

Chapter 5
Government Economic Performance and Political Support ........... 127
Beate M. Huseby
Further Considerations ................................................................. 129
Data .............................................................................................. 132
Democracy Satisfaction: Differences Across Time and Among Countries ..................................................................... 133
Economic Performance and Democracy Satisfaction .................. 136
Perceptions of Government Economic Performance .................. 139
Perceptions of the National Economy and Democracy Satisfaction
among Winners and Losers ............................................................ 142
The Impact of Single Party Governments on the Relationship between Economic Performance and Democracy Satisfaction ...... 146
Summary ....................................................................................... 150

Part III
PARTY IDENTIFICATION AND POLITICAL PARTICIPATION .......... 153

Chapter 6
All That is solid Melts into Air:
Party Identification in Norway ...................................................... 155
Anders Todal Jenssen
Key Aspects of the Original Formulation: Family Heritage,
Stability, and Cognitive “Screen” .................................................. 155
Controversy ................................................................................... 157
The EU Issue ................................................................................ 158
The Campbell–Valen Postulate ....................................................... 159

10
The Party-Decline Thesis .................................................. 160
Hypotheses ................................................................. 162
The Ups and Downs of Party Identification in Norway ........... 164
Has the Substance of Party Identification Changed? .............. 166
Working-Class Identification and Identification with the Labor Party ......................................................... 169
Long-Term Effects? ......................................................... 171
Conclusion ..................................................................... 177
Appendix ....................................................................... 179

Chapter 7
Decline of Electoral Turnout: The Case of Norway ........... 181
Hanne Marthe Narud and Henry Valen
Electoral Turnout and Government Alternatives Since 1945 ....... 185
The 1993 Storting Election .............................................. 187
Government Alternatives ............................................... 188
Campaign Intensity ......................................................... 192
Cross-Pressures and the EU Issue .................................. 195
Concluding Remarks ..................................................... 201

Part IV
VALUE CHANGE AND ISSUE VOTING ............................... 205

Chapter 8
Reaction against Public Policies or Adjusting Preferences?
Egalitarian Values in a Comparative Perspective .............. 207
Toril Aalberg
Egalitarian Values - A Conceptual Clarification .................. 209
The Cultural and Historical Origin of Value Preferences ....... 211
The Shift in Support for Egalitarian Values ......................... 213
Data ........................................................................ 216
Public Preferences for Equality - a Comparative Perspective .... 218
Conclusion ..................................................................... 227

Chapter 9
Left-Right Party Polarization among the Mass Publics:
A Comparative Longitudinal Study from Eight West European Countries .................................... 229
Oddbjørn Knutsen
Placement of Voters for Different Parties and Party Families on the Left-Right Scale .......................................................... 232
The Strength of the Partisan Component ........................... 240
Empirical Analysis ........................................................ 247
Chapter 10

Public versus Private Sector

A New Division in Voting Behavior

Tor Bjørklund

From Industrial to Post-Industrial Society
Public Sector: Monolithic or Fragmented?
Sector a New Division in Voting Behavior?
Conclusion

Chapter 11

Comparing Theories of Issue Voting:

A Test with Randomized Candidate Placements

Stuart Elaine Macdonald, George Rabinowitz and Keith Brown

Overview
Theories of Issue Voting
Candidate Position and Perception
The Comparative State Elections Project
Background on the 1968 Election
Issue Positions in 1968
Comparing the Theories
Results
Analyzing Perceived Candidate Positions
Comparing the NES and CSEP Questions
Conclusion
Appendix: Issue Questions from the Comparative State Elections Project

Chapter 12

Issue Voting and the Political Agenda:

A Spiral of Silence?

Bernt Aardal

Stating the Problem
The Spiral of Silence
A Critique of the Theory
Formulating Hypotheses
Data
The Political Agenda
Fear of Exposing Minority Views?
Involvement in Political Discussions
Involvement in Direct Actions
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Contents</th>
<th>Page</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Integrated or Disintegrated Attitudes?</td>
<td>346</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Issue Position and Party Choice</td>
<td>348</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Discussion</td>
<td>352</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>References</td>
<td>355</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Index</td>
<td>387</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Contributors</td>
<td>401</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>