East Germany,
Détente, and Ostpolitik,
1969–1973

M. E. SAROTTE

The University of North Carolina Press
Chapel Hill & London

dealing with the devil
Contents

Preface xi
Note on Usage xv
Abbreviations xix

Introduction: Opposing Devils 1

1 Setting the Stage in 1969:
Old Worries and New Initiatives
in the Era of Nixon and Brandt 7

2 Speaking Civilly Face-to-Face
in the First Half of 1970:
Meetings in Moscow, Erfurt,
Berlin, and Kassel 37

3 Discovering the Perils of Bargaining
in the Second Half of 1970: The Moscow Treaty, the Quadripartite Talks, and the Beginning of the End for Ulbricht 65

4 Expediting Negotiations in 1971:
Superpower Maneuvering and the Importance of China 87

5 Achieving Initial Aims in 1971–1972:
The Quadripartite Agreement, the Transit
Accord, and the Traffic Treaty 113

6 Sealing the Bargain in 1972–1973:
The Basic Treaty in the Context of the International Cold War 135

Conclusion:
The Costs of Dealing with the Devil 163

Note on Sources:
The Bureaucracy of Evil 181

Notes 189

Bibliography 269

Index 289