Tropical Capitalism

The Industrialization of Belo Horizonte, Brazil

Marshall C. Eakin
Contents

List of Maps ix
List of Tables xi
Acknowledgments xiii

Introduction: Varieties of Capitalism 1

1. Industry, Technology, and Politics 9
   Brazilian Industrialization
   Mineiro Industrialization
   Brazilian Politics
   Mineiro Politics

2. Building Belo Horizonte and a Business Elite, 1890s–1940s 33
   Creating a New Capital
   The Formation of a Business Elite
   Families, Entrepreneurs, and Politics

3. Technology and Industrialization, 1890s–1940s 59
   Mineiro Industrialization to 1950
   The Textile Industry
   The Iron and Steel Industry
   The Electric Power Industry
   Conclusion

4. Technocrats, Politicians, and Industrialists, 1940s–1960s 89
   Outlines of the Industrial Surge
   Textiles, Iron and Steel,
   Electric Power, Mining and
   Minerals Processing, Construction
   The Technocrats
Contents

The Politicians
The Technocrats Again
The Entrepreneurs
Webs of Power

5. The “Quadruple Alliance,” 1960s–1990s 129
   Key Industries
   Electric Power, Iron and Steel,
   Textiles, Mining and Minerals
   Processing, Automobiles
   Politicians and Technocrats
   Entrepreneurs

Conclusion: Webs of Power—A Century of Industrialization 167
   The “Lessons” of the Mineiro Model
   Tropical Capitalism

Appendixes 181
   A. Industries and Professions, Belo Horizonte, 1922
   B. Key Textile Firms in Belo Horizonte and Surrounding Region, Founding Directors

Notes 191
Bibliography 239
Index 259