South Africa's Foreign Policy
Dilemmas of a New Democracy

Edited by — —

Jim Broderick
Lecturer in the Scarman Centre
University of Leicester

Gary Burford
Lecturer in the Department of International Relations
University of the Witwatersrand, Johannesburg

and

Gordon Freer
Lecturer in the Department of International Relations
University of the Witwatersrand, Johannesburg

palgrave
Contents

List of Figures and Tables vii
Foreword by Aziz Pahad ix
Acknowledgements xi
Notes on the Contributors xiii
List of Abbreviations xv

Part I South Africa’s Foreign Policy Concerns

1 Introduction 3
   Jack Spence

2 Democracy and Human Rights in the Principles and Practice of South African Foreign Policy 11
   Alexander Johnston

3 South Africa’s Regional Security Dilemmas 29
   James Hamill

4 Partner or Hegemon? South Africa in Africa 55
   Fred Ahwireng-Obeng and Patrick J. McGowan

Part II South Africa’s External Relationships

5 The USA and South Africa: Constructing a New Relationship? 83
   Jim Broderick

6 South Africa’s Relations with Japan 99
   Masako Osada

7 Solving South Africa’s Chinese Puzzle: Democratic Foreign Policy-Making and the ‘Two Chinas’ Question 119
   Chris Alden
Contents

8 The European Union and South Africa 139
   Christopher Hill

9 South Africa and the Middle East: The Anatomy of an Emerging Relationship 157
   Larry Benjamin

10 South Africa and Latin America: Bridging the South Atlantic 187
    Claudia Mutschler

11 South African Dilemmas Surrounding the Indian Ocean Rim 205
    Gordon Freer

12 Searching for the 'New' in South African Foreign Policy? 223
    Jim Broderick

Index 237