

A 363082

POLITICAL SPACE

Frontiers of Change and Governance
in a Globalizing World

EDITED BY

Yale H. Ferguson and
R. J. Barry Jones

State University of New York Press

Contents

Introduction: Political Space and Global Politics	-1
Yale H. Ferguson and R. J. Barry Jones

Part I: The Problem of Change in Historical Perspective

Chapter 1. The Problem of Change in International Relations Theory	23
K. J. Holsti
Chapter 2. Reconfiguring International Political Space: The Significance of World History	45
Richard Little
Chapter 3. The Informational Reconfiguring of Global Geopolitics	61
Ken Dark
Chapter 4. Remapping Political Space: Issues and Nonissues in Analyzing Global Politics in the Twenty-First Century	87
Yale H. Ferguson and Richard W. Mansbach

Part II: Geographical Scale, Identity, and Relationships

Chapter 5. Political Power and Geographical Scale	115
John Agnew
Chapter 6. Mapping Global/Local Spaces	131
Robert Latham
Chapter 7. Cartographies of Loathing and Desire: The Bharatiya Janata Party, the Bomb, and the Political Spaces of Hindu Nationalism	151
Stuart Corbridge

Part III: Globalizing Trends in the World Economy

Chapter 8. A New Cross-Border Field for Public and Private Actors Saskia Sassen	173
Chapter 9. Finance in Politics: An Epilogue to Mad Money Susan Strange	189
Chapter 10. Offshore and the Institutional Environment of Globalization Ronen Palan	211

Part IV: Shifting Patterns of Governance

Chapter 11. Governance and the Challenges of Changing Political Space R. J. Barry Jones	227
Chapter 12. Club Identity and Collective Action: Overlapping Interests in an Evolving World System Mark A. Boyer	245
Chapter 13. NGOs and Fragmented Authority in Globalizing Space James N. Rosenau	261
Chapter 14. Practicing Democracy Transnationally Rey Koslowski and Antje Wiener	281
Contributors	297
SUNY series in Global Politics	301
Index	303