

A 2003/ 7923

Hubert Heinelt
Panagiotis Getimis
Grigoris Kafkalas
Randall Smith
Erik Swyngedouw (eds.)

Participatory Governance in Multi-Level Context
Concepts and Experience

Leske + Budrich, Opladen 2002

Table of Contents

List of Tables	9
Contributors	11
Preface (Angela Liberatore)	15

Introduction

1. Achieving Sustainable and Innovative Policies through Participatory Governance in a Multi-level Context: Theoretical Issues (Hubert Heinelt)	17
1.1 Introduction	17
1.2 The Empirical Arenas	10
1.3 Theoretical Reflections	14
1.4 References	21

The Theoretical Debate

2. Governance and Metagovernance: On Reflexivity, Requisite Variety, and Requisite Irony (Bob Jessop)	33
2.1 Introduction	33
2.2 Fuzzy Terms and Failed Practices	34
2.3 Introducing Some Conceptual Clarity	38
2.4 Governance as the Art of Complexity	41
2.5 Governance Failure and the Meta-governance Response	45
2.6 Responses to Meta-governance Failure	48
2.7 Conclusions	55
2.8 References	56
3. The Normative Desirability of Participatory Democracy (Rainer Schmalz-Bruns)	59
3.1 Introduction	59
3.2 The Commission's White-Paper Proposal to Democratise European Governance	60
3.3 The Idea of Democratic Legitimacy	62

3.4	The Idea of Transnational Constitutionalism	67
3.5	The Perspective from Trust: A Normatively Free-standing View on Democratic Legitimacy.....	70
3.6	References	73
4.	Participatory Governance and Urban Citizenship (Roland Roth)	75
4.1	Two Concepts.....	75
4.2	Why Care about Citizenship in Empirical Research?.....	78
4.3	Reformulating some of the Empirical and Theoretical Findings in Terms of Citizenship	80
4.4	References	81
5.	Technological Governance – Technological Citizenship? (Thomas Saretzki).....	83
5.1	Technological Innovation, Democratic Governance and the Return of the Citizen	83
5.2	Technological Citizenship	85
5.3	Conclusion.....	100
5.4	References	103

The Empirical Arena

6.	Sustainability and Policy Innovation in a Multi-Level Context: Crosscutting Issues in the Water Sector (Erik Swyngedouw, Ben Page and Maria Kaika).....	107
6.1	Introduction	107
6.2	Governing Water	109
6.3	Policy and Participation in the Water Sector: National and European Crosscutting Issues	118
6.4	Conclusions: Innovation, Sustainability and the Myths of Participatory Governance	127
6.5	References	129
7.	Achieving Sustainable and Innovative Policies Through Participatory Governance in a Multi-level Context: Lessons from the EMAS Scheme (Britta Meinke).....	133
7.1	Introduction	133
7.2	Implementing EMAS at National Level.....	138

7.4	EMAS and New Forms of Governance? Comparing the Implementation in Germany, Greece and the UK	147
7.5	References	152

Conclusion

8.	Comparative Analysis of Policy-Making and Empirical Evidence on the Pursuit of Innovation and Sustainability (Panos Getimis and Grigoris Kafkalas)	155
8.1	The Comparative Framework	155
8.2	Governance Paradigms: Supranational Players and the Role of Nation States	157
8.3	The Local Context: The Shifting Roles of Holders and Territorial Specificity	160
8.4	Water Supply Systems and EMAS: Systemic and Contingent Aspects in the Pursuit of Innovation and Sustainability	163
8.5	Conclusions: Opportunities and Risks of Participatory Governance, the Improbability of Success and a Plea for Re-regulation and Flexibility	167
8.6	References	170