Klaus Boehnke (Ed.)

Israel and Europe
A Complex Relationship

With a Foreword by Professor Kurt Biedenkopf

Deutscher Universitäts-Verlag
Content

Israel and the Freistaat Sachsen — A Foreword
Kurt Biedenkopf

1  Israel and Europe—Introductory Remarks on a Complex Relationship
Klaus Boehnke

2  The EU and Israel: Comparison of Cultures and Implications
Anat Bardi and Lilach Sagiv

3  Israel and the Barcelona Process: The First Five Years
Alfred Tovias

4  Divergences in the EU on an Active Mediterranean Policy
Hartmut Elsenhans

5  Fostering Democracy through Parliamentary Cooperation:
European Lessons for the Middle East?
Reuven Y. Hazan

6  Europe, Israel and Environmental Politics: Lessons to be Learnt
Avner de-Shalit

7  The Relationship between Government and Opposition in the Bundestag and House of Commons in the Run-Up to the Maastricht Treaty
Moshe Maor
8 Multi-level Governance in the European Union: The Evolution of Transnational Policy Networks
Andreas Nölke 137

9 Mission Impossible? The Task of Enlarging and Deepening the European Union
Beate Neuss 155

10 National Economic Policies in a European Economic and Monetary Union
Rolf H. Hasse 173

11 European Monetary Policy: The First Years
Klaus-Dieter John 193

12 German National Identity in a New Europe
Brief Remarks on the Limits of Survey Research
Peter P. Mohler 215

About the Authors 227