WAR, TERRORISM, GENOCIDE, AND THE QUEST FOR PEACE – CONTEMPORARY PROBLEMS IN POLITICAL ETHICS

Haig Khatchadourian

Studies in World Peace
Volume 16

The Edwin Mellen Press
Lewiston • Queenston • Lampeter
Contents:

Dedication
Acknowledgements

Foreword by Ramon M. Lemos

Author’s Preface

1. Self-Defense and the Just War
Defining Conditions of Individual Self-Defense
Distinction between ‘aggression’ and ‘defense’
Necessary and sufficient Conditions of Individual Self-Defense
Right-Making Conditions of Individual Self-Defense
Right-Making Conditions of Collective Defense
Right-Making Conditions of Collective Self-Defense
Joseph McKenna’s and Donald Wells’ Seven Conditions of a Just War
Need for additional Condition to McKenna’s/Wells’ List
Just War Theory Applied to Falklands Conflict between Argentina and Britain
Agreement with Donald Wells’ view that Modern War, particularly Nuclear War, cannot be Just: “Just War” “justifies too much”

2. Just Revolution
‘Revolution’ defined: Peter Culvert on four aspects of Revolution
Harming Innocents Must be Avoided.
Revolution must be a Last Resort.
Force Used must be “Real and Immediate”. Rebellion must have a Reasonable Chance of Success. Means Employed Must be Moral

3. Humanitarian Military Intervention: Justice—or “Peace”?
Humanitarian Military Intervention. Human Rights and Humanitarian Intervention
David Rieff on the U.N.’s and the West’s Inaction in Bosnia-Herzegovina
Genocide in Rwanda, Bosnia and Kosovo
Central Moral Dilemma of the Paper: (1) Evil of not preventing or ending mass injustices against innocents; (2) Evils consequent on Military Intervention to prevent or to stop such injustices
Necessary and Sufficient Conditions for the Moral Justifiability of International Humanitarian Military Intervention: Just War Theory
“The Five Virtues of Kofi Annan
The War Crimes Tribunal and the Permanent International Criminal Court (ICC)
Humanitarian Intervention and the Principle of Double Effect
Senator Baltasar Garzon’s Doctrine of “Universal Jurisdiction”
Humanitarian Military Intervention & Nation-Building
Humanitarian Military Intervention vs. Safeguards against “Man’s inhumanity to Man”

4. The Ethics of (A) “Preventive” and “Preemptive” Strikes; (B) “Preemptive War or Self-Defense”

Preventive Strikes

“Preemptive First Strike”
Defensive war and just cause; offensive war and aggression
Nuclear war as utterly immortal: Anthony Kenny, U.S. Catholic Bishops ‘Preventive Strike’ and ‘Preemptive Strike’ defined.

Conditions for the Moral Justifiability of Preventive Strikes
Richard Wasserstrom: Possible Ways of Defining ‘Innocents’ and ‘Non-innocents’
Difficulties with each

The United Nations Charter & “Preventive Strikes”
Historical example of Preventive Strike: Israel’s attack on Iraq’s Osirak Nuclear Reactor
Moral Evaluation of the Strike

Anticipatory/Preemptive Strikes and Morality
Historical Example of a Preventive Strike: Israel’s attack on Egypt, June 5, 1967
Walzer’s and Lackey’s Evaluation of Strike
Difficulties with both
Egypt’s 1973 War against Israel
Walzer and Lackey on the War
Preemptive War as “Self-Defense”
Preemptive War not National Self-Defense: Immorality and International Illegality of “Preemptive War”

5. Preventing Omnicide: Nuclear Deterrence, Missile Defense Shield, and Morality

Historical Stages in U.S.’s-U.S.S.R’s/Russia’s Nuclear Arsenal and Policies
Anthony Kenny and U.S. Catholic Bishops on Nuclear Disarmament
Nuclear Deterrence
Deterrence Policy and Consequentialism
Unilateral Partial Disarmament:
Kenny’s Proposal for U.S. Unilateral Partial Disarmament
Critical Comments about Possible or Probable Practical Implications/Consequences
The U.S.-Russia Nuclear-Arms Deal
The U.S. Withdrawal from ABM Treaty
President Bush’s Missile-Defense System Initiative

6. Terrorism and Morality

Defining ‘Terrorism’: what’s in a name
Terrorism as ill-defined “open-textured” “bifocal” quasi-essentialist “essentially contested” “family resemblance concept
Terrorism vs. “Freedom Fighting”
Distinction between “immediate victims” and “sufferers”
types of Terrorism: Predatory, Retaliatory, Political, Religious-Moralistic
All Types and Forms of Terrorism are Always Wrong:
Terrorism and Just-War Theory
The Principle of Discrimination and Terrorism
The Principle of Proportion and Terrorism
Terrorism and Human Rights
Terrorism and Consequences
Criticism of Kai Nielsen’s Act-Utilitarian defense of Terrorism
7. Is Political Assassination Ever Morally Justified?

What is Political Assassination?

Is Political Assassination Ever Morally Justified?

Political Assassination Never Morally Justified on (1) Good motives; (2) Consequences; (3) Victim's possible Threat to World. Assassination as a Forcible Abrogation of the Victim's Right to Life without Due Process of Law

8. Counter-terrorism: Assassination and Torture

Part I: Assassination & Counter-terrorism:

Is Assassination in general ever morally justified?

Assassination and the Human Right to Life

Assassination and Consequentialism:

Act-Utilitarianism and Assassination

Rule-Utilitarianism and Assassination

State-Sponsored Assassinations and National Self-defense

Moral-Juridical Arguments against State Assassination of Suspected Militants or Terrorists, as a Form of Counter-Terrorism

Moral Evaluation of the Palestinian al-Aqsa Intifada and Israel's Military Response to It

Part II: Torture & Counter-terrorism:

Immorality & Illegality of Physical and Psychological Torture

9. Genocide and the Random Murder of Innocents

"The Holocaust as more than Murder"

Douglas Lackey's thesis that the evils of genocide are Neither Qualitatively Nor Quantitatively Distinguishable from Random Murders of Innocents

Lackey's Arguments: The Character of the Mass Murderer. Principle of Diminishing Turpitude (DMT). Mass Murderer's Character does not Contain a Special Vice not Possessed by the "Common" Murderer

Response to Lackey's Arguments

The Holocaust (Genocide) Catalogue vs. the Random Catalogue

Lackey's "Side Effects" of the Holocaust (Genocide) vs. the Enormity of "Cultural Genocide

10. Immanuel Kant's Perpetual Peace in the Nuclear Age

W.B. Gallie and Sisela Bok on the Relevance of Kant's Treatise Today

Bok's Defense of Political Moralism

Kant's Three "Definite Articles": Proposal and Arguments for the attainment of Perpetual International Peace by the Formation of a Federation embracing all Nations

Critical Examination of Premises I - IV of Kant's "Proof"

The European Union and Kant's Federation of all Nations

Bibliography

Index