Table of Contents

Acknowledgements vii
On the editors and contributors ix
Preface xiii

PART I
Reflections on images of Andean identity

1 Straying Andean ways: Reflecting on Andean-ness in a globalizing world 3
   Annelies Zoomers & Ton Salman
2 Andean transversality: Identity between fixation and flow 15
   Anke van Dam & Ton Salman
3 Debates about lo andino in twentieth-century Peru 40
   Isabel Yépez del Castillo
4 Cultural difference and the evocation of otherness:
   Reflections on the (mis)use of the culture concept in Andean studies 64
   Pieter de Vries & Monique Nuijten
5 The ‘collapse’ of the Peruvian ayllu 81
   Arij Ouweneel
6 Social scientists as social activists:
   A short history of the recent evolution of lo andino in Peru and Bolivia 99
   Nico van Niekerk

PART II
Andean diversity: Interventions and responses

7 Water, community, and identity:
   The politics of cultural and agricultural production in the Andes 123
   Paul H. Gelles & Rutgerd Boelens
8 Water, gender, and ‘Andeanity’: Conflict or harmony?
Gender dimensions of water rights in diverging regimes of representation 145
Rutgerd Boelens & Margreet Zwarteveen

9 Indian justice in the Andes: Re-rooting or re-routing? 167
Willem Assies

10 The Andean melodrama and how it reflects on Bolivian education 187
Marten Brienen

11 Between higher education and lo andino in the central Peruvian Andes, 1960-2000 208
Ninna Nyberg Sørensen & Finn Stepputat

12 Andean ethnicity today: Four Aymara narratives from Bolivia 226
Xavier Albó

PART III
The traveling Andes: Andean elements in alien settings

13 New recipes for living better with Pachamama 251
Susan Paulson

14 Andean predicaments: Cultural reinvention and identity creation among urban migrants in Peru 272
Karsten Paerregaard

15 The presence of Aymara traditions in urban youth culture: Tales about the multiculture of El Alto, Bolivia 288
Germán Guaygua, Máximo Quisbert & Angela Riveros

16 Crisis? Whose Crisis? Conflicting views on the crisis in the artisan economy of Otavalo, Ecuador 301
Jeroen Windmeijer