Contents

List of Figures ix
List of Tables xi
Preface xiii

Introduction: Educational Regimes and the Comparative Study of Anglo-American Democracy 3

Interpretations of Educational Regimes 4
Configurations of Educational Policy 9
Problems of Political Economy 15
Traditions of Political Ideology 19
Comparisons of Anglo-American Democracy 26

1 Public Instruction 29
Australia: Between Conservative and Utilitarian-Liberal Educational Regimes 32
Canada and Newfoundland: Denominational Regimes, Separate Schools, and Strict Separation 40
New Zealand: Foundation of a Classical Liberal Educational Regime 49
United Kingdom: Communitarian-Conservative versus Liberal-Conservative Principles 55
United States: Liberalism, Democracy, and Racial Exclusion 63
Educational Regimes and the Problem of Public Instruction 72
2 Industrial Efficiency  80
Australia: Liberal-Conservative Regimes with Centralized Bureaucratic Administration 83
Canada and Newfoundland: The Institutional Ambivalence of Liberal-Conservative Reform 90
New Zealand: A Liberal-Conservative Regime with Divided Local Governance 98
United Kingdom: Secondary Educational Reform and the Élitist Ideology of National Efficiency 104
United States: Aspirations for Progressive Reform versus the Hegemony of Utilitarian Liberalism 114
Educational Regimes and the Problem of Industrial Efficiency 123

3 Welfare State  134
Australia: Liberal-Conservative Legacies versus Utilitarian-Liberal Possibilities 139
Canada: From Ideas of British National Efficiency to American Progressive Education 146
New Zealand: Social-Democratic Equality of Opportunity versus Liberal-Conservative Principles of Merit Selection and Segmented Equality 154
United Kingdom: Reconciling Selectivity and Universality in Public Education for the Welfare State 160
United States: Progressive Legacies and Utilitarian Ascendancy from the New Deal to the Great Society 171
Educational Regimes and the Problem of the Welfare State 181

4 Pluralist Society  192
Australia: Restoring Dual Regimes of Government and Non-government Schools 196
Canada: Educational Regimes as Bilingual Consociations 204
New Zealand: Integrating Roman Catholic and Maori Schools 213
United Kingdom: Assimilation versus Integration of Racial and Ethnic Minorities in 'British' Schools 219
United States: Neutralizing Race, Language, and Religion in Public Schools for the Procedural Republic 230
Educational Regimes and the Problem of Pluralist Society 240
5 Global Capitalism 247

Australia: Policy Convergence on a National Curriculum and Corporate Governance 252
Canada: Back to Basics in Education for a Technological Society and Global Capitalism 259
New Zealand: National Curriculum and Corporate Management 268
United Kingdom: Prescribed National Curricula and the End of Tripartite Partnership 274
United States: Setting Standards for Utilitarian-Liberal Educational Regimes 284
Educational Regimes and the Problem of Global Capitalism 293

Conclusion: Educational Regimes and Comparative Ideas of Democracy 303

Educational Regimes for Public Instruction: Founding Ideas of Community, Equality, and Liberty and the Contradictions of Anglo-American Democracy 304
Educational Regimes for Industrial Efficiency: Anglo-American Democracy and the Counter-claims of Occupational Class Hierarchy 312
Educational Regimes for Pluralist Society: Transforming the Anglo-American Idea of Democratic Community 325
Educational Regimes and Global Capitalism: Anglo-American Liberty as Freedom from Interference versus the Counter-claim of Education for National Prosperity 331
Anglo-American Democracy in Retrospect and Prospect 338

Figures and Tables 347
Notes on Statistics and Statistical Sources 363
Notes 381
Index of Names 569
Index of Subjects 575