Totalitarian and Authoritarian Regimes in Europe
Legacies and Lessons from the Twentieth Century

Edited by
Jerzy W. Borejsza and Klaus Ziemer

in cooperation with
Magdalena Hułas
Contents

Preface ix
List of Contributors xiii

Introduction

1. Italian Fascism, Nazism and Stalinism: Three Forms of Totalitarianism from a Twenty-first-century Perspective 3
   Jerzy W. Borejsza

I. Totalitarianism and Authoritarianism in Historiography

2. Approximation of a Comparison: Stalinism, National Socialism and Their Intellectual Servants 25
   Dietrich Beyrau

3. What Was Not Allowed to Be Written about Coming to Terms with the Germans in the People's Republic of Poland? 53
   Edmund Dmitrów

4. History and Memory: the Perception of Totalitarianism in Italy in a Comparative Perspective 70
   Marcello Flores

5. Polish Interpretations of Bolshevism and Totalitarian Systems (1918–1939) 80
   Marek Kornat

6. How Slovak Historiography is Coming to Terms with a 'Dual Past' 106
   Dušan Kováč

7. The Burden of Self-historicism: Strategies of Dealing with the Past in East German Historiography after 1989/90 123
   Martin Sabrow
8. The Historian’s Approach to Germany’s National Socialist Past
   Wolfgang Schieder
   139

9. Totalitarian and Authoritarian Systems: Factors in Their Decline and Hurdles in the Development of Democratic Orders
   Klaus Ziemer
   158

II. Case Studies

10. Andrei Yanuarevich Vyshinsky: Paragon of the Totalitarian Conception of the Law and Political Organisation
    Adam Bosiacki
    177

11. The Short- and Long-term Effects of the Authoritarian Regime and of Nazism in Austria: the Burden of a ‘Second Dictatorship’
    Gerhard Botz
    188

12. Stabilisation of Power through Social and Consumer Policy in the GDR
    Christoph Boyer
    209

13. ‘Better Known for Its Fascists Than Its Democrats’: Croatia’s Experience with Ideologies in the Twentieth Century
    Andrea Feldman
    228

    Hagen Fleischer
    237

    Andrzej Friszke
    276

16. The Historical Experience of the Twentieth Century: Authoritarianism and Totalitarianism in Lithuania
    Algimantas Kasperavičius
    297

17. A Totalitarian Movement in a Democratic Society: the Case of the Communist Party of France
    Marc Lazar
    313

18. The Nature and Perspectives of Bolshevism through the RSDWP
    (Russian Social Democratic Workers’ Party) Leaders’ Vision
    Dmitry B. Pavlov
    330

    in Totalitarianism
    Jože Pirjevec
    343

20. Right-wing Radicalism in Contemporary Poland
    Szymon Rudnicki
    354
21. From Fascism to Democracy: the Birth of the Political System of the Italian Republic
Nicola Tranfaglia

22. The Strange Paradox: Vichy after Vichy
Olivier Wieviorka

III. Legal Aspects of Coming to Terms with the Totalitarian and Authoritarian Past

23. Criminal Law as a Reaction to System Crime: Policy for Dealing with the Past in European Transitions
Jörg Arnold

Joachim Gauck

Hubert Izdebski

26. Have We Succeeded in Coming to Terms with the Past? A Comparison of National Socialism and the German Democratic Republic
Eckhard Jesse

27. Historical Memory and Legislative Changes in Romania
Andrei Pippidi

IV. The Politics of Memory and the Culture of Remembrance

28. From Policy to Memory: How the Federal Republic of Germany Dealt with the Nazi Legacy
Norbert Frei

Carsten Humlebæk

30. The Communist Past in Post-communist Russia
Alexei Miller

31. First There Was Oblivion: Collective Remembrances of the First Years of Soviet Power in Russia in 1922 (Ural Study 1917–22)
Igor V. Narsky
32. The Concept of Totalitarianism in Italian Culture after 1945
   Jens Petersen
   541

33. Stalin in Soviet and Russian History Textbooks from the 1930s to the 1990s
   Arkady B. Tsfasman
   556

34. Landscapes of Commemoration: Historical Memory and Monument
    Culture in Austria (1945–2000)
   Heidemarie Uhl
   569

Index
   587