
Governing Water

Contentious Transnational Politics and Global Institution Building

A/449256

Ken Conca

The MIT Press
Cambridge, Massachusetts
London, England

Contents

Series Foreword	ix
Preface	xi
Acknowledgments	xv
1 Managing the Global Environment or Protecting the Planet's Places? Institutional Forms of Global Environmental Governance	1
2 Toward a Social Theory of International Institutions	35
3 Pushing Rivers Around: The Cumulative Toll on the World's Watersheds and Freshwater Ecosystems	73
4 Swimming Upstream: In Search of a Global Regime for International Rivers (with Fengshi Wu and Joanne Neukirchen)	93
5 Expert Networks: The Elusive Quest for Integrated Water Resources Management	123
6 The Ecology of Human Rights: Anti-Dam Activism and Watershed Democracy	167
7 Invisible Hand, Visible Fist: The Transnational Politics of Water Marketization	215
8 Brazil: Innovation through Conflict	257
9 South Africa: "With Water We Will Wash Away the Past"	311
10 Institution Building as the Social Embedding of Political Struggle	373
Notes	391
References	425
Index	459