

A 397945

Modernising Government

THE WAY FORWARD

ORGANISATION FOR ECONOMIC CO-OPERATION AND DEVELOPMENT

Table of Contents

Foreword	3
Executive Summary	9
The Review	14
Introduction	15
Chapter 1. Open Government	27
Chapter 2. Enhancing Public Sector Performance	55
Chapter 3. Modernising Accountability and Control	83
Chapter 4. Reallocation and Restructuring: The Heavy Machinery of Reform	105
Chapter 5. The Use of Market-type Mechanisms to Provide Government Services	129
Chapter 6. Organising and Motivating Public Servants: Modernising Public Employment	157
Chapter 7. Modernisation: Context, Lessons, and Challenges	185
Bibliography	207
Annex A	217
Annex B.....	218
Annex C.....	220
Annex D	221
List of Boxes
1.1. Finland: Access to information for open policy making	39
2.1. Performance management and performance budgeting	59
2.2. New Zealand experience of performance budgeting and performance management	62

3.1.	Management accountability and control trends in Canada	98
4.1.	The Dutch agencies	112
4.2.	Examples of arm's-length government in some OECD countries	115
4.3.	Designing successful programme review mechanisms	122
5.1.	Staff issues associated with outsourcing	140
5.2.	United States food stamps programme	147
5.3.	Other market-type mechanisms	154
6.1.	Performance agreement for senior civil servants in the United Kingdom	174
6.2.	PRP in Denmark	176
6.3.	Policies for developing leadership: country cases	179
7.1.	Modernisation: The way forward	202

List of Figures

1.1.	OECD countries with laws on access to information (date of first introduction)	37
1.2.	OECD countries with Ombudsman institutions (date of establishment)	45
2.1.	Are rewards and/or sanctions applied if performance targets are met or are not met?	66
2.2.	Are performance results made available to the public?	68
2.3.	Is the performance data externally audited?	69
2.4.	Is it common that politicians use performance measures in decision making?	72
3.1.	Is there a central office for controlling and monitoring audits?	92
3.2.	How are audit subjects determined?	94
3.3.	Does the supreme audit body co-ordinate with or use the reports of internal auditors?	97
4.1.	Trends in independent regulatory authorities in OECD countries	114
5.1.	Outsourcing of government services	133
5.2.	Public expenditure on private institutions	149
5.3.	Public and private institutions in long-term care for the elderly, late 1990s	151
6.1.	The overall impact of performance-related pay on performance	178
7.1.	Factors and interrelationships underpinning public sector management	193

List of Tables

0.1.	Hierarchy of values	18
2.1.	Potential and limitations of different management control regimes	71

2.2.	Incentives influencing whether politicians in the executive and the legislature change behaviour and use performance information in decision making	74
3.1.	Control reforms over the last decade	89
3.2.	A snapshot of internal control systems	91
3.3.	A snapshot of external control systems	96
3.4.	The modern control framework	103
4.1.	Matching the organisational features of agencies, authorities and other government bodies with the reasons for their creation	119
5.1.	Summary of PPPs by country and sector	142
5.2.	Public and private expenditures on long-term care as a percentage of GDP	150
6.1.	Evolution of total public employment from 1990/91 to 2000/01	161
6.2.	Annual change in central or federal administration employment	162
6.3.	Main strengths and weaknesses of civil service systems in the promotion of collectivity and ethical behaviours	166
6.4.	Structure and location of central HRM bodies in OECD member countries	168
6.5.	Index of delegation in human resources management	170
6.6.	Changing civil service status	172
A.1.	Share of the public employment over the labour force (%)	217
B.1.	General government total outlays	218
C.1.	OECD recommendations and guidelines on open government	220
D.1.	Legislation and policy measures for open government	221
D.2.	Oversight institutions for open government	230