

A/456724

A FREE NATION
DEEP IN DEBT
THE FINANCIAL ROOTS OF DEMOCRACY

JAMES MACDONALD

PRINCETON UNIVERSITY PRESS

PRINCETON AND OXFORD

CONTENTS

Introduction: THE FINANCIAL ROOTS OF DEMOCRACY 3

1. TRIBES AND EMPIRES 10
 - Rags to Riches 10
 - Barbarians at the Gate 18
 - The Free Men Fight Back 24
 - Greeks and Their "Gifts" 31
 - Civic Debt 36
 - Kings and Tyrants 42
 - The Carthaginian Wars 45
 - Imperium Romanum* 51
 - Breakdown 56
2. CITIZEN CREDITORS 67
 - The Return of the City-State 67
 - La Serenissima 72
 - La Superba 77
 - The Monte Comune 81
 - The Twilight of Repayable Taxes 84
 - San Giorgio 94
 - Selfish Citizens 100
3. SOVEREIGN DEBT 105
 - Kings and Merchants 105
 - The Treasure of the Indies 115
 - Antwerp and Lyons 122

- Serial Bankruptcy 128
Folie des Offices 138
4. RESISTANCE TO THE HEGEMON 148
 The League of Cities 148
 Regicide 157
 Glorious Revolution 166
5. THE CHIMERA 179
 Le Roi Soleil 179
 Post-bellum Depression 185
 The Chimera 190
 The Bubble 205
6. THE DILEMMA 220
 Mopping Up 221
 The Ruling Class 227
 The Dilemma 239
 The Limits of Absolutism 255
 Aristocratic Revolution 266
7. REVOLUTION 272
 A New World 277
 The First and Second American Revolutions 289
 Enemies of the People 307
 The Elephant and the Whale 334
8. BOURGEOIS CENTURY 347
 Pax Britannica 348
 The Heyday of Bourgeois Finance 355
 Ties of Identity 366
 A Nation of Rentiers 377
 Greenbacks and 5-20s 384
9. NATIONS AT ARMS 400
 Total War (Part I) 400
 The Settlement of Accounts (Part I) 413
 Total War (Part II) 435
 Totalitarian War 445
 The Settlement of Accounts (Part II) 456

Epilogue: THE END OF THE AFFAIR 465

A Note on Currencies 477

Glossary 483

Notes 487

Bibliography 523

Acknowledgments 545

Index 547