Observing Government Elites
Up Close and Personal

Edited by

R. A. W. Rhodes
Director, Research School of Social Sciences
Distinguished Professor of Political Science
Australian National University

Paul 't Hart
Professor of Political Science,
Australian National University and Professor of Public Administration, Utrecht University and

Mirko Noordegraaf
Professor of Public Management
Utrecht University
Contents

List of Boxes, Figures and Tables vii
Acknowledgements viii
List of Contributors ix

1. Being There 1
   R. A. W. Rhodes, Paul 't Hart and Mirko Noordegraaf

Part I: Observing at Home: National and Local Elites

2. The Everyday Life of a Minister: a Confessional and Impressionist Tale 21
   R. A. W. Rhodes

3. Spies at the Crossroads: Observing Change in the Dutch Intelligence Service 51
   Paul 't Hart

4. Men at Work: How Public Policy Managers Cope 78
   Mirko Noordegraaf

5. Governing Karlstad: an Insider's Story 103
   P. O. Norell

Part II: Observing Across Borders: Eurocratic Elites

6. Dutch Eurocrats at Work: Getting Things Done in Europe 131
   Karin Geuijen, Paul 't Hart and Kutsal Yesilkagit

7. The EU's Nomads: National Eurocrats in European Policy-Making 160
   Renita Thedvall

8. European Integration in Anthropological Perspective: Studying the 'Culture' of the EU Civil Service 180
   Cris Shore
Contenets

9. So What? The Benefits and Pitfalls of Being There 206
   R. A. W. Rhodes, Paul 't Hart and Mirko Noordegraaf

Index 234