Conflict Management and African Politics
Ripeness, bargaining, and mediation

Edited by Terrence Lyons and
Gilbert M. Khadiagala

Routledge
Taylor & Francis Group
LONDON AND NEW YORK
Contents

List of illustrations ix
Notes on contributors xi
Preface xiii

1 Conflict management and African politics: framing the links 1
TERRENCE LYONS AND GILBERT M. KHADIAGALA

PART I
New research on negotiation theory 7

2 Ripeness revisited: the perils of muscular mediation 9
ALAN J. KUPERMAN

3 Perverse negotiations: bribery, bargaining, and ripeness 22
BERTRAM I. SPECTOR

4 Putting The Practical Negotiator to the test: two examinations of the formula–details proposition 38
PAMELA CHASEK AND LYNN WAGNER

PART II
The international relations of Africa 65

5 The evolution of Euro-African relations 67
GILBERT M. KHADIAGALA
Contents

6  Post-cold war conflict in West Africa: a subordinate state system in collapse? 83
   TERRENCE LYONS

PART III
Conflict and conflict resolution in Africa 95

7  Conditions for mediation success: evaluating US initiatives in Sudan and Liberia 97
   DONALD S. ROTHCHILD

8  The Zimbabwe independence settlement revisited: race, land, class, and ripe moments 120
   FADZAI GWARAZIMBA

   BEN K. FRED-MENSAH

Index 145