China and the New International Order

Edited by Wang Gungwu and Zheng Yongnian
Contents

List of figures .......................... x
List of tables .......................... xi
List of contributors .................. xii
Acknowledgments ........................ xiv

Introduction .......................... 1
WANG GUNGWU AND ZHENG YONGNIAN

Rising China and the new international order 2
Searching for domestic sources of China's international behavior 3
Key issues in conceptualizing Chinese international behavior 6
China and globalization 10
China and regionalism 12
China and international relations studies 15

PART I
Key issues in conceptualizing Chinese international relations 19

1 China and the international order: Some historical perspectives 21
WANG GUNGWU

Is there an international order? 21
What the idea of international order means for China 25
What about the future? 28

2 Nationalism: Dynamics of domestic transformation and international relations in China 32
ZHENG YONGNIAN

A state-in-nationalism approach 34
Contents

The state and non-state nationalistic forces 37
Nationalistic conflict 41
Conclusion: nationalism and its implications 47

3 Redefining the Chinese concept of sovereignty 53
SHAN WENHUA
Sovereignty and the Chinese concept thereof 53
Chinese practice in international economic law in relation to state sovereignty: giving up state sovereignty? 59
Recent official statements on state sovereignty: insisting on inviolable sovereignty 68
Concluding remarks: the concept of sovereignty revisited 70

4 Sovereignty in exercise: Constructing political Chinese-ness in post-1997 Hong Kong 81
TOK SOW KEAT
The Hong Kong Paradox 81
By virtue of being “Chinese”: the political aspect 82
Constructing Chinese-ness in Hong Kong 85
An uncertain future? 94
Concluding remarks 97

5 Beyond symbiosis: The changing civil–military relationship after Mao 101
YOU JI
Politics of post-symbiotic CCP–PLA interaction 101
Hu Jintao's command of the gun 107
Hu Jintao's new strategies of civilian control over the military 110
Civil–military relations beyond symbiosis 113
Conclusion 120

---

PART II

China and globalization 125

6 China reshapes the world economy 127
DENG ZILIANG AND ZHENG YONGNIAN
Introduction 127
China in the East Asian production system 128
China in the triangular trade system 128
“Made in China” commodities and the world market 132
Contents vii

Outward foreign direct investment 135
The state and resources diplomacy 140
Discussions and conclusion 144

7 Understanding Chinese views of the emerging global order 149
ZHANG YONGJIN

Introduction 149
Power 150
Multipolarization 150
Security 155
Globalization 158
Conclusion 161

8 China joins global governance: The 10 conundrums 168
GERALD CHAN

A framework for analysis 168
Formulating 10 hypotheses (the 10 conundrums) 169
Assessing China's conundrums: the yins and yangs 178
Conclusion 181

PART III
China and regionalism 185

9 Contested international relations theory and China's constructing regional entitlement 187
GORDON CHEUNG

Introduction 187
US hegemonic decline? 188
China's rise and East Asian regionalization 190
The construction of Chinese historical entitlement 194
Conclusion 197

10 Learning from the EU?: China's changing outlook
toward multilateralism 203
JEAN-PIERRE CABESTAN

Introduction 203
The EU: a priority target 203
The influence of the EU model on China's foreign policy 207
The ambiguities of China's vision of Europe 210
Conclusion 214
Contents

11 Northeast Asia regionalism and China: From an outside-in perspective  218
JAEWOO CHOO

Introduction 218
Why is there no regionalism in Northeast Asia? 220
China's positive initiative 224
What is wrong with China? 226
Conclusion: What more can China do? 231

12 China in the Shanghai Cooperation Organization 237
PAN GUANG

China and post-Soviet Central Asia 237
Sino-Russian strategic cooperative partnership and the SCO 239
The SCO's success in Central Asia 241
SCO's responses to new challenges 244
China's key role in the SCO 249
Strategic significance of the SCO for China 251
Conclusion 253

13 China and ASEAN in Asian regional integration 256
SHENG LIJUN

Coming together from a long way 256
Who leads the way? 261
Why is China unable to lead the way? 262
ASEAN "pulls" vs. China "pushes" 267
"Leaders' diplomacy" 269
Weak strategic and political basis 269
Conclusion: prospects 271

PART IV
China and international relations studies 279

14 Deconstructing Cultural Realism  281
ANTHONY A LOH

Introduction 281
Basic problems with Cultural Realism 282
Choice of military texts 284
Choice of the Ming 285