Power and Resistance in the New World Order

2nd Edition, Fully Revised and Updated

Stephen Gill
Contents

Acknowledgements x
Preface to the First Edition xiv
Preface to the Second Edition xix
A Word on the Structure of the Book xxvi

1 Personal, Political and Intellectual Influences 1
  1.1 Politics in the classroom and the politics of class 2
  1.2 A sociological perspective on world order 5
  1.3 Disciplinary neo-liberalism and the end of history 8

Part I  Social and International Theory 11

2 Epistemology, Ontology and the Critique of Political Economy 15
  2.1 Epistemology and politics 15
  2.2 Differences between Gramscian and positivist approaches 17
  2.3 The critique of political economy: four arguments 20
  2.4 Beyond vulgar Marxism and the orthodox discourses 38

3 Transnational Historical Materialism and World Order 42
  3.1 The limits of the possible 43
  3.2 The emergence of modern world orders 47
  3.3 Twentieth-century world order: between hegemony and passive revolution 58
  3.4 Twenty-first century world order: dialectic between the old and radically new 64

4 Hegemony, Culture and Imperialism 67
  4.1 Cultural resistance after the Chilean coup, 1973 68
  4.2 The Chilean question and global politics 70
Part II  The Political Economy of World Order  73

5 US Hegemony in the 1980s: Limits and Prospects  80
  5.1 Theories of hegemonic decline and the conventional wisdom  81
  5.2 A critique of the conventional wisdom  85
  5.3 Decline or continuity?  89
  5.4 US hegemony and transnational capitalism  91
  5.5 Towards a more liberal and transnational hegemony  96

6 The Power of Capital: Direct and Structural  100
  6.1 Historic blocs and social structures of accumulation  100
  6.2 States, markets and the power of capital  103
  6.3 The direct power of capital  107
  6.4 The structural power of capital  109
  6.5 The power of capital: limits and contradictions  116

7 Globalization, Market Civilization and Disciplinary Neo-Liberalism  123
  7.1 Introduction  124
  7.2 Analyzing power and knowledge in the global political economy  127
  7.3 The meaning of ‘globalization’  130
  7.4 ‘Disciplinary’ neo-liberalism  137
  7.5 New constitutionalism and global governance  138
  7.6 Panopticism and the coercive face of the neo-liberal state  142
  7.7 Neo-liberal contradictions and the movement of history  145

8 The Geopolitics of the Asian Crisis  150
  8.1 Crisis, danger and opportunity  151
  8.2 The ‘usual suspects’ and the imposition of neo-liberalism  152
  8.3 Mystification and the East Asian model  154
  8.4 The restructuring of East Asia and the new geopolitics of capital  155
  8.5 Conclusion  159

9 Law, Justice and New Constitutionalism  161
  9.1 Introduction  161
  9.2 Property rights, contracts and the liberal rule of law  163
  9.3 Dimensions of new constitutionalism  169
  9.4 Conclusion  175
Part III  Global Transformation and Political Agency  177

10 Globalizing Elites in the Emerging World Order  183
  10.1 Global disintegration-integration  183
  10.2 Perspectives, classes and élites  192
  10.3 Globalizing élites and social stratification  193
  10.4 Globalism, territorialism and the United States  197
  10.5 Concluding reflections  203

11 Surveillance Power in Global Capitalism  206
  11.1 Panoptic power  208
  11.2 American informational capitalism and world power  213
  11.3 Expanded reproduction of capital and social order  216
  11.4 Production and social reproduction  221
  11.5 US social order/disorder: enclavisation and incarceration  223
  11.6 Homeland security  225
  11.7 ‘Future image architecture’: monitoring enemies and friends  227
  11.8 Conclusion  232

12 The Post-modern Prince  237
  12.1 Why the WTO talks failed?  238
  12.2 The contradictions of neo-liberal globalization and the Seattle protests  240
  12.3 Towards a post-modern Prince?  244

13 Alternatives, Real and Imagined  249
  13.1 Alternative concepts of global leadership  250
  13.2 Global relations of force and changing conditions of existence  253
  13.3 Global alternatives: dominant, progressive and reactionary  256
  13.4 Latin America and Brazil: limits and possibilities  261
  13.5 Imagining the future of the progressive movements: six propositions  265

Bibliography  270

Index  279