Native American Song at the Frontiers of Early Modern Music

OLIVIA A. BLOECHL

CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY PRESS
CONTENTS

List of illustrations  ix
List of music examples and tables  xi
Preface  xiii
Acknowledgments  xix
Abbreviations  xxi

1 On colonial difference and musical frontiers: directions for a postcolonial musicology  1

Part I: Transatlantic savagery  33

2 Protestant imperialism and the metaphysics of New World song  35
3 The voice of possession  58
4 The voice of prophecy  80

Part II: Staging the Indian  107

5 Musicking Indians in the Stuart court masque  109
6 Savage Lully  142
7 Rameau's Les Sauvages and the aporia of musical nature  177

Conclusion: opera, elsewhere  216

Notes  222
Bibliography  251
Index  269