VISIONS AND REVISIONS

WOMEN’S NARRATIVE
IN TWENTIETH-CENTURY SPAIN

SUB Hamburg

Edited by Kathleen M. Glenn and
Kathleen McNerney

Rodopi

Amsterdam - New York, NY 2008
Contents

Introduction
Kathleen M. Glenn and Kathleen McNerney 7

Part I  Self and Other(s)
The Female as Battleground: Carmen de Burgos’s Quiero vivir mi vida
Shirley Mangini 19

Maria Aurèlia Capmany’s Ethics From the Dust
P. Louise Johnson 37

Gender, Language, and Nation: Female and Androgynous Selves in Montserrat Roig’s Last Novels
M. Àngels Francés 55

Beyond the Cartesian Subject: Personal and Collective Identity in Ana Maria Moix’s 24 horas con la Gauche Divine
Esther Raventós-Pons 75

“Here’s Looking at You, Kid”: Giving Birth and Authoring, or the Author as Mother and the Mother as Author
Silvia Bermúdez 95

Part II  History and Memory
Remembering Spain: Historical Commitment in Mercedes Salisachs’s Post-Franco Publications
Christine Arkinstall 111

A Life Worth Living: Narrating Self and Identity in Josefina Aldecoa’s Trilogy
David K. Herzberger 135

Owning Up to History: Ethics and Aesthetics in Carme Riera’s Dins el darrer blau
Lisa Vollendorf 147
Carme Riera and the Paradox of Recovering Historical Memory in La meitat de l'ànima
  Maryellen Bieder 169

Re-Collecting Women's Voices From Prison: The Hybridization of Memories in Dulce Chacón's La voz dormida
  José F. Colmeiro 191

Contributors 211