Governance for Harmony in Asia and Beyond

Edited by
Julia Tao, Anthony B.L. Cheung, Martin Painter and Chenyang Li
Contents

List of contributors viii

PART I
Introduction 1

1 Why governance for harmony? 3
    JULIA Tao, ANTHONY B.L. CHEUNG, MARTIN PAINTER
    AND CHENYANG LI

PART II
Governance for harmony in East-West traditions 13

2 The Confucian conception of harmony 15
    KAM POR YU

3 Harmony as a guiding principle for governance 37
    CHENYANG LI

4 Harmony in government 58
    ROBERT CUMMINGS NEVILLE

PART III
The quest for harmony in government in Asia 71

5 Harmony, conformity or timidity? Singapore's overachievement in the quest for harmony 73
    MICHAEL D. BARR
vi Contents

6 Harmony in government–society governance: problems, challenges and prospects in Malaysia 103
K.S. NATHAN

7 Risks in adopting modernization as the way to build a harmonious society in modern China 124
KANG OUYANG

8 Governance for harmony: challenges for public service delivery reform in China and Vietnam 138
MARTIN PAINTER

9 Restoring governability in Hong Kong: managing plurality and joining up governance 158
ANTHONY B.L. CHEUNG

PART IV
The quest for harmony beyond Asia: interplay of culture and institution from Confucian and liberal perspectives 187

10 Open politics and disharmony 189
BERT A. ROCKMAN

11 Disharmony and civil society: a view from Latin America 210
ARIEL C. ARMONY

12 Consensual but not Confucian: resolving the paradox of consensual politics in Scandinavia 228
JON PIERRE

13 Harmony through network governance? 243
JACOB TORFING

14 Can the Confucian way lead us out of the paradox of trust in democracy? 264
JULIA TAO
15 Propriety, law and harmony: a functional argument for the rule of virtue
QIANFAN ZHANG

16 Xunzi's vision of society: harmony by justice
HEINER ROETZ

17 Concordia versus pax: the impact of Eastern governance for harmony on Western peace concepts
KARL A. KUMPFMÜLLER

Index