Journalists as Political Actors
Transfers and Interactions between Britain and Germany since the late 19th Century

Frank Bösch and Dominik Geppert
Editors
Table of Contents

Frank Bösch and Dominik Geppert
Journalists as Political Actors: Introduction ............................................ 7

Frank Bösch
Transfers and Similarities: Journalists, Politicians and Scandals in Imperial Germany and Britain .......................................................... 16

Dominik Geppert
Ambassadors of Democracy: British and German Foreign Correspondents in the Age of High Imperialism ........................................ 35

Martin Schramm
British Journalism in the Great War ............................................................ 56

Thomas Wittek
The British Press and the early Weimar Republic: Media Influence or Influenced Media? ................................................................. 74

Stephanie Seul
Journalists in the service of British foreign policy: The BBC German Service and Chamberlain’s appeasement policy, 1938-1939 ............. 89

Karen Bayer
The German Past and the British Press: Sefton Delmer as an Anglo-German actor during the 1950s ..................................................... 110

Antje Robrecht
British Press Correspondents in Post World War II Germany .................... 124

Colin Seymour-Ure
Media Barons in British Politics after 1945 .............................................. 140

Notes on Contributors ............................................................................ 159