A Foucault for the 21st Century: Governmentality, Biopolitics and Discipline in the New Millennium

Edited by

Sam Binkley and Jorge Capetillo
TABLE OF CONTENTS

Preface ....................................................................................................................... ix

Sam Binkley (Emerson College)
Introduction ................................................................................................................. xi

Section I: Neoliberalism and Economic Conduct

Jason Read (University of Southern Maine)
A Genealogy of Homo-Economicus: Foucault, Neoliberalism and the Production of Subjectivity” ................................................................. 2

Michael C. Behrent (Appalachian State University)
A Seventies Thing: On the Limits of Foucault’s Neoliberalism Course for Understanding the Present ................................................................. 16

Catherine Wilson (University of Massachusetts, Amherst)
Beyond State Politics: Subjectivities and Techniques of Government in Contemporary Neoliberal Social Movements ........................................ 30

Section II: Subjection, Subjectivation and the Government of the Self

Edward McGushin (St. Anselm College)
Arts of Life, Arts of Resistance: Foucault and Hadot on Living Philosophy ................................................................................................................. 46

Alan Rosenberg (Queens College, CUNY) and Alan Milchman (Queens College, CUNY)
The Final Foucault: Government of Others and Government of the Self.. 62

Maria Bonnafous-Boucher, (Advancia-Negocia, Paris)
The Concept of Subjectivation: A Central Issue in Governmentality and Government of the Self ............................................................................ 72
Section III: Biopower and the Life of Bodies

Lewis Kirshner (Harvard Medical School)
Biopolitics and the Transformation of the Psychiatric Subject .......... 92

Jeffrey Bussolini (College of Staten Island, CUNY)
Michel Foucault's Influence on the Thought of Giorgio Agamben .......... 104

Machiel Karskens (Radboud University Nijmegen, Netherlands)
Biopower - A Slip of the Polemical Mind ........................................... 122

Jeffrey T. Nealon (Penn State University)
Foucault's Deleuze; or, On the Incorporeality of Transformation in Foucault ................................................................. 139

Section IV: Education and Pedagogy

Dion Dennis (Bridgewater State College)
The Shepherd, The Actuary and the Marketer: Education-Based Civic Engagement and Service Learning as Neo-Governmentalities .......... 154

Tyson Lewis (Montclair State University)
Discipline-Sovereignty-Education ...................................................... 173

Section V: Governing National Populations

Miikka Pyykkönen (University of Jyväskylä, Finland)
To Demolish, To Separate or to Assimilate? Genealogical Insights to the Governance of Roma in Finland ............................................. 188

Christopher Alderson (Carleton University, Institute of Political Economy)
Border Security/Border Sécurité .......................................................... 203

Sebastien Malette (University of Victoria)
Foucault for the Next Century: Eco-Governmentality ......................... 221
Section VI: Control and the Prison Industrial Complex

William Staples (University of Kansas) and Stephanie K. Decker (University of Kansas)
Technologies of the Body, Technologies of the Self: House Arrest as Neo-Liberal Governance ................................................................. 240

Sarah Pemberton (University of British Columbia)
Neoliberal Prisons: Revisiting 'Discipline & Punish' in the Twenty-First Century ................................................................. 255

Section VII: Religion and Political Spirituality

Behrooz Ghamari-Tabrizi (University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign)
When Life Will No Longer Barter Itself: In Defense of Foucault on the Iranian Revolution ................................................................. 270

Jeremy D. Posadas (Emory University)

Section VIII: Genetics, Genomics and Racialized Life

Marina Levina (UC Berkeley)
Regulation and Discipline in the Genomic Age: A Consideration of Differences between Genetics and Eugenics ................................................................. 308

Catherine Bliss (New School for Social Research)
Genome Sampling and the Biopolitics of Race ................................................................. 320

Sam Han (CUNY Graduate Center)
Info-War as the Interface of Biopolitics: Re-reading Foucault with Virilio ................................................................. 338

Section IX: Consumption as Way of Life

S. Margot Finn (University of Michigan)
Alimentary Ethics in The History of Sexuality and NBC's The Biggest Loser ................................................................. 350
Luka Zevnik (University of Ljubljana)

The Consumer Hermeneutics of the Self and Modern Compulsory Happiness ................................. 365