Editing Eden
A Reconsideration of Identity, Politics, and Place in Amazonia
Edited by Frank Hutchins and Patrick C. Wilson
University of Nebraska Press
Lincoln and London
Contents

List of Illustrations ........................................ vii
Acknowledgments ........................................... ix
Introduction ..................................................... xi
FRANK HUTCHINS AND PATRICK C. WILSON

Part 1. Myth, Meaning, Modernity, and Representation

1. Indigenous Capitalisms
   Ecotourism, Cultural Reproduction, and the Logic of Capital in Ecuador’s Upper Amazon ................. 3
   FRANK HUTCHINS

2. Fractal Subjectivities
   An Amazonian-Inspired Critique of Globalization Theory ......................................................... 38
   MICHAEL A. UZENDOSKI

3. The Portrayal of Colombian Indigenous Amazonian Peoples by the National Press, 1988–2006 ............... 70
   JEAN E. JACKSON

4. Cannibal Tourists and Savvy Savages
   Understanding Amazonian Modernities .................. 106
   NEIL L. WHITEHEAD
Part 2. Ethnopolitics, Territory, and Notions of Community

5. For Love or Money?
   Indigenous Materialism and Humanitarian Agendas .................... 127
   BETH A. CONKLIN

6. Alternative Development in Putumayo, Colombia
   Bringing Back the State through the Creation of Community and “Productive Social Capital”? .................... 151
   MARÍA CLEMENCIA RAMÍREZ

7. Normative Views, Strategic Views
   The Geopolitical Maps in the Ethnic Territorialities of Putumayo ........... 191
   MARGARITA CHAVES

8. Indigenous Leadership and the Shifting Politics of Development in Ecuador’s Amazon .................... 218
   PATRICK C. WILSON

9. Worlds at Cross-Purposes .................... 246
   ALCIDA RITA RAMOS

Contributors .................... 261

Index .................... 265