Policies, Problems, Potential

Edited by
Wolfgang Benedek,
Matthias C. Kettemann and
Markus Möstl
Contents

Preface ix
Contributors xiii
List of abbreviations xvii

Introduction 1
Mainstreaming human security: a research agenda
WOLFGANG BENEDEK, MATTHIAS C. KETTEMANN AND MARKUS MÖSTL

Part I
Mainstreaming human security in peace operations and crisis management 11

1 Mainstreaming human security in United Nations and European Union peace and crisis management operations: policies and practice 13
WOLFGANG BENEDEK

2 Neutrality and impartiality in implementing human rights: a framework for measuring human security 32
ANDREJ ZWITTER

Part II
Mainstreaming human security in United Nations peace operations 55

3 Institutionalising human rights in United Nations peacekeeping operations: critique of the status quo – and a call for a human rights law post bellum 57
SYLVIA MAUS
Contents

4 Restorative responses to human rights violations by peacekeepers: enhancing human security? 83 PAUL REDEKOP

5 Human security and security sector reform: conceptual convergences in theory and practice 99 FAIRLIE CHAPPUIS

6 Operationalisation through training: human security training and education for peacebuilding 123 ARNO TRUGER

PART III
Mainstreaming human security in the European Security and Defence Policy 139

7 The European way of promoting human security in crisis management operations: a critical stocktaking 141 MARKUS MÖSTL

8 Six years of mainstreaming human rights into the European Security and Defence Policy: a success story? 159 HADEWYCH HAZELZET

9 The Civilian Response Team of the European Union: a European contribution to operationalising human security in international crisis management? 173 IRENE KAUFMANN

PART IV
Case studies in mainstreaming human security 187

10 Operationalising human security in societies in transition: a case study of Serbia 189 DRAGANA DULIĆ

11 From state to human security: institutionalising and operationalising human security in Africa 215 MOHAMMUD A. HUSSIEN
PART V
Conclusions

A roadmap towards mainstreaming human security
WOLFGANG BENEDEK, MATTHIAS C. KETTEMANN
AND MARKUS MÖSTL

Index