International Relations and Non-Western Thought
Imperialism, colonialism and investigations of global modernity

Edited by Robbie Shilliam
Contents

Acknowledgements xi
Contributors xiii

1 Non-Western thought and international relations 1
ROBBIE SHILLIAM

The challenge 1
Organization of the volume 4

2 The perilous but unavoidable terrain of the non-West 12
ROBBIE SHILLIAM

Introduction 12
The inadequacy of Western thought 12
The perils of representing the non-West 15
Reorientation towards the non-West 19
The West viewed from elsewhere 21
Conclusion 24

PART I
Colonial conditions 27

3 On colonial modernity: civilization versus sovereignty in Cuba, c. 1840 29
GERARD ACHING

Introduction 29
Civilization and colonialism 34
"Civilized" nationhood versus sovereignty 37
The Atlantic space of colonial modernity 43
Contents

4 Anti-racism and emancipation in the thought and practice of Cabral, Neto, Mondlane and Machel 47
BRANWEN GRUFFYDD JONES

Introduction 47
Cosmopolitanism in IR theory 50
Anti-racism and internationalism in the thought and practice of Neto, Cabral, Mondlane and Machel 52
The emergence of connected struggles and shared consciousness 53
Anti-racism and internationalism 56
Conclusion 61

5 Voices from the "Jewish colony": sovereignty, power, secularization, and the outside within 64
WILLI GOETSCHEL

Introduction 64
"Indigenous colonists" 67
Power, state, and sovereignty in Spinoza and Mendelssohn 73
Sovereignty and secularization in Mendelssohn and Heine 79
Contentious modernity 82

PART II
Cultural contexts 85

6 International relations of modernity in Sayyid Qutb's thoughts on sovereignty: the notion of democratic participation in the Islamic canon 87
SAVED KHATAB

Introduction 87
Modernity: challenges and Muslim responses 88
Qutb's response 93
Conclusion 106

7 Decoding political Islam: uneven and combined development and Ali Shariati's political thought 108
KAMRAN MATIN

Introduction 108
International relations of and non-Western political thought 109
The politico-historical context of the emergence of political Islam in Iran 112
Ali Shariati: the ascetic ideologue of social revolution 115
Conclusion 121
Beyond Orientalism and “reverse Orientalism”: through the looking glass of Japanese humanism

RYOKO NAKANO

Introduction 125
Orientalism and reverse Orientalism in modern Japan 127
Uchimura Kanzō: departure from Orientalism and “reverse Orientalism” 129
Yanaihara Tadao: the principle of autonomy as an internationally legitimated norm 132
Conclusion 136

Culture in contemporary IR theory: the Chinese provocation

ARIF DIRLIK

Introduction 139
IR theory with “Chinese characteristics” 140
Theory under siege: IR theory in Chinese perspective 149

PART III

Beyond the nation-state

10 Alternative sources of cosmopolitanism: nationalism, universalism and Créolité in Francophone Caribbean thought

MARTIN MUNRO AND ROBBIE SHILLIAM

Introduction 159
Haiti, from revolution to indigenism 163
The American occupation: race and the new nationalism 166
Négritude, Antillanité and Créolité in the French Caribbean 170
Conclusion 175

11 The internationalist nationalist: pursuing an ethical modernity with Jawaharlal Nehru

PRIYA CHACKO

Introduction 178
Against narrow nationalism 182
An ethical modernity 185
Towards a world community 190
Conclusion 195
x  Contents

12  Radical anti-colonial thought, anti-colonial internationalism and the politics of human solidarities  197
   ANTHONY BOGUES

   Introduction  197
   Early twentieth-century anti-colonial thought: the International African Service Bureau  200
   The second moment: Bandung and non-alignment  205
   Manley and Nyerere: the NIEO  207
   Conclusion  211

PART IV
Reflections  215

13  Untimely reflections  217
   MUSTAPHA KAMAL PASHA

Appendix
   Working on non-Western perspectives in both theory and practice: an interview with Christopher LaMonica  227

   Bibliography  239
   Index  265