The United Nations, intra-state peacekeeping and normative change

EŞREF AKSU

Manchester University Press
MANCHESTER AND NEW YORK

distributed exclusively in the USA by Palgrave
CONTENTS

Acknowledgements — vii
List of abbreviations — ix

1 The UN and intra-state conflicts: problematising the normative connection
   Addressing normativity
   Norms, interests, time and governance

2 Rethinking the UN through intra-state peacekeeping: the analytical framework
   Exploring normative change with ‘historical structures’ in mind
   Drawing the boundaries of the normative domain
   Problematising UN peacekeeping in intra-state conflicts
   Normative significance of ‘peacekeeping environments’

3 The UN’s role in historical context: impact of structural tensions and thresholds
   Towards double ‘peaks’: superpower rivalry and decolonisation/non-alignment
   The aftermath of double peaks
   When North equals West: ‘unipolar’ configuration and rising hegemony
   Concluding observations

4 UN peacekeeping in intra-state conflicts: evolution of the normative basis
   Emerging normative basis on the eve of double ‘peaks’
   Consensus on objectives: sovereignty writ large
   Dominant expectation: minimal UN authority
   Re-ordering objectives: from vertical to horizontal relationship
   Re-assigning authority: from timid criticism to undoing ‘domestic wrongs’
   Concluding observations

5 The UN in the Congo conflict: ONUC
   Historical background
   UN involvement without a ‘prelude’
Contents

Where 'external' meets 'internal': attempts at secession 105
Towards UN intervention in 'domestic' affairs 109
Concluding observations 121

6 The UN in the Cyprus conflict: UNFICYP
Historical background 130
Prelude to active UN involvement 131
Resolving two divergent diagnoses 134
Authority: expansion within severe constraints 142
Concluding observations 148

7 The UN in the Angola conflict: UNAVEM
Historical background 155
Prelude to active UN involvement 157
Gradual transformation of the UN’s role 159
The Lusaka process: transformation completed 166
Concluding observations 172

8 The UN in the Cambodia conflict: UNTAC
Historical background 179
Peacekeeping in Cambodia: the evolution of an idea 181
Lead-up to UN 'protectorate': from the Australian Plan to the Paris Agreement 185
The mandate: sovereignty and human rights hand in hand 191
UNTAC deployed 197
Concluding observations 201

9 Reflections on international normative change
Normative change in a historical structural context 211
'Institutional' implications of 'normative' change? 214

Select bibliography — 220
Index — 231